Crosby Brothers' Stories Conflict on Bing's Home Life

Singer Denies Strained Relations; Larry Hopes Separation, Not Divorce

Paris, May 9 (AP)—The Crosby brothers—Bing and Larry—told conflicting stories today of the state of the famous crooner's 20-year-old marriage to onetime film star Dixie Lee.

Here in Paris the screen and radio singer denied a Hollywood report that "strained relations" are blighting his married life.

But in Hollywood his brother Larry, head of the Crosby Research Foundation, said: "We hope it is a separation and not a divorce."

The report started with John O'Melveny, an attorney for Bing, who said yesterday in Hollywood that things were not going so well between the singer and his Dixie. O'Melveny said a reconciliation was hoped for in June, when Bing is due home from a European jaunt.

Some columnist must have started it," said Crosby last night. Such report "crop up every four or five months," he added.

Bing, who leaves for London next week to play in the British Amateur gold championship, said he had a letter from Dixie four or five days ago and "everything was all right then."

Could Not Explain

Bing said he could not explain why one of his attorneys, "I have two or three of them," had given such a report.

Calls to the Crosby home at Monterey, Calif., for comment from Dixie Lee drew this reply: "Mrs. Crosby is out of town."

Dixie Lee was a singing star in pictures when they married in 1929. Crosby was a member of a singing trio in Paul Whiteman's band.

They have four sons, Gary 16, twins Phillip and Dennis, 15, and Lindsay, 13. All have shown vocal talent on the Bing Crosby radio show. They are in school in northern California.

Upon her marriage, Dixie retired from the screen. Crosby made a fortune as a singer, actor and businessman.

No Outright Break

There have been many rumors in recent years that their marriage was not running smoothly. But there was no outright break, O'Melveny said yesterday.

"There has been no property settlement of any kind. There are some strained relations. The whole matter is in abeyance until Mr. Crosby returns from Europe late in June. We hope then to effect a reconciliation."

Said Larry Crosby:

"My brother's a Catholic. Dixie is not. A legal separation is the way the family would want it. I haven't talked to either one of them lately but they have family battles about every six months—like any other married couple. I hope this one isn't serious."

Triangle Acres Is Sold by 'Y.W.' Three-Day Holiday to Be Given Their Employees; Plans for Summer

Fish Creek Property Goes to Brooklyn Man for Residence

Triangle Acres, the 60-acre Y.W.C.A. camp at Fish Creek, has been sold to a Brooklyn man, it was reported to the board of directors Monday night by B. C. Van Tong, chairman of the Y.W.C.A. board of trustees.

The sale included the land and buildings, but not the furnishings and contents of the buildings. Price of the transaction was not revealed.

The purchaser was Nicholas Brown of Brooklyn, who reportedly intends to use it as a private summer residence. Richard F. Ruseley, local real estate salesman, handled the transaction.

The board of directors of the Kingston Y.W.C.A. authorized the sale by resolution about one year ago. The resolution provided that the proceeds would become a "nest egg" for future building plans to enable the association to carry on a more efficient program. The need for a gymnasium and additional recreational facilities within Kingston has been stressed.

The camp includes a main building and several other buildings which the "Y" converted into dormitories. It was purchased by the Kingston Y.W.C.A. about 1941. Prior to that it was the home of Sergeant James Cunningham of the New York State Police.

Cold Air Blast Leaves State

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—A blast of cold air headed out of New York state today after sending temperatures below freezing in many sections for two days in a row.

The weather bureau said high readings today would be a little warmer than yesterday. Tomorrow is expected to be mild.

Little crop damage was expected from the frosts, brought by rigid air from northern Canada, Roy Gillette, director of the State Agriculture Department's Bureau of Statistics, said fruit trees probably would escape serious damage unless there were a "succession" of severe frosts.

However, onion growers in Genesee and Orange county, mucked and reported that high winds over the week-end had torn onion sets and seeds out of the ground.

In the Elba section, near Batavia, growers estimated that the wind had blown away 50 per cent of the plants. Reseeding will be necessary, they said.

Black dirt farmers in Orange county reported losses ranging to 40 per cent of the crop. About 1,000 acres suffered damage and the crops on about 400 acres were reported a total loss.

Sheriff Warns About Rubbish on Highways

With the vacation season at hand, Sheriff George C. Smith today urged residents and visitors not to clutter up the county by dumping garbage and litter along the highways.

In addition to marring the natural beauty of the countryside, the act of dumping refuse along state, county and town highways is a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment. The sheriff warned that arrests will be made for future violations.

Thousands More Lose Homes As Red River Spreads Out

(By The Associated Press)

Fresh floodwaters from the Red river of the north today made thousands homeless and isolated many communities in parts of the water-soaked North Dakota and Minnesota. A 24-hour rain fed the rising stream and its tributaries.

Across the border in flood-besieged Winnipeg, there also were more evacuations as a new storm threatened further damage from the raging Red river. More than 12,000 persons already have been driven from their homes in Winnipeg and southern Manitoba in the last week. The new floods in North Dakota and Minnesota hit the area which only recently had battled the worst floods in 50 years.

National guardsmen were called.

Reds Claim Americans To Be Freed

Two Airmen Cave 'Spy Confessions,' Chinese Say; 'Magnanimous' Policy Cited Held Since '48

Their Plane Went Down in Communist Area, Is Statement

Tokyo, May 9 (AP)—The Chinese Communists broadcast today they are releasing two American airmen from whom the extorted "spy confessions" after 18 months in prison.

The official Peiping radio said the two airmen, E. C. Bender and W. C. Smith, will be deported. It gave no details.

Marine Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender, Cincinnati, and Navy Chief Electrician William C. Smith, Long Beach, Calif., were forced down October 19, 1948, on a flight from Tsingtao, then a U. S. naval base.

They have been held incommunicado. The Reds stiffly rejected all efforts to obtain their release.

The Communist radio broadcast this statement by Gen. Hsu Shih-yuh, commander of the Shantung military district:

"It was not until lately that Bender and Smith, influenced by our magnanimous policy toward prisoners, began to confess."

"The history of communism is full of similar 'confessions,' obtained after long imprisonment."

The broadcast gave this account:

Smith and Bender said the "objective of the flight was to reconnoiter the railways" in Red-held Shantung peninsula and construction projects at Lai-Yang, important Red base 72 miles north of Tsingtao.

Landed After Midnight

On the way back, their plane "landed" shortly after midnight on Kiaochow (Kiaotung) peninsula across the bay from Tsingtao. The plane carried "charts and various military maps" of the U. S. espionage organization.

"The above facts and confession prove that the aim of this U. S. Imperialist airplane flight was to invade our territorial air with the purpose of carrying out planned military reconnaissance to help the anti-Colonial War of the Kuomintang (Nationalist) brigands."

The Shantung military head.

Smoke Nuisance To Be Eliminated

Mayor Holds Conference About Problem; Steps Are Taken

A conference on smoke nuisance complaints held in the office of Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk yesterday revealed that steps are in progress at the sources of complaint to eliminate the menace.

A group of business men affected met with the mayor, Fire Joseph L. Murphy and Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly to discuss ways and means of eliminating excess smoke and ash as mentioned in complaints.

The subject was discussed generally and it was stressed that the places involved were taking effective steps to cooperate because they felt they did not want to be part of any nuisance in the city.

The session was held to allow each place of business an opportunity to compare notes on the steps they were taking in trying to eliminate offending smoke.

Parents Fear Girl Met Foul Play in Manhattan Area

Alice Lindabury Was Seen Last Walking in Direction of Biltmore

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Police and parents of 22-year-old Alice Lindabury, missing student at Vassar College here, feared foul play today in her mysterious disappearance in New York city.

Miss Lindabury, daughter of a wealthy and socially prominent publishing executive, vanished between trains Saturday on her way home to Princeton, N. J.

With her parents strongly discounting any possibility of an elopement, police of eight states pressed their search for the tall, brown-haired college senior—described as a "quiet girl."

"I wish it were only an elopement," declared her father, Richard V. Lindabury, associate editor of the Crowell-Collier Publications in New York.

"All we want to hear is that she is safe, but our fear is that she has met with violence of some kind," he declared.

New York police were checking a slender clue provided by a school chum—that she sat with a man on the New York Central Railroad run from Poughkeepsie to Grand Central Terminal in New York.

Alice had started out with the girl friend, but because the train was crowded, had to sit at opposite ends of the car.

Miss Lindabury was seen twice after she left the train in the morning.

Once was at a furriers in Manhattan where she left a heavier coat for storage about noon, and at Grand Central Terminal where another school friend saw her about 4 p. m. (E.S.T.).

The other girl said Miss Lindabury was walking toward the Biltmore Hotel entrance when last seen.

Since then, all trace has vanished.

"This whole thing is so contrary to her general behavior that it almost as though circumstances beyond her control have prevented her from contacting us," her mother said.

Russia Sets Rules For Berlin Election

Central Broadway Closing Planned Wednesday, 9-5

Arace Building Razing to Be Done; Expect Walls to Fall; Will Detour

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said today it will be necessary tomorrow to close off central Broadway from Cornell street to the central post office while men are working on the razing of the Arace Brothers building, 562 Broadway.

Traffic will be diverted away from the area from about 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., because walls on the building, which is second tallest in the crossing project area, are expected to collapse when top beams are removed.

The detour streets will be Grand, Smith avenue and Cornell street and local police will assist the contractor's flagmen in handling traffic.

Demolition work has been progressing rapidly since the start last month on the north side of Broadway. The O'Reilly building has been torn down and work has been going along steadily on the block between Railroad avenue and Thomas street. The tavern building on the south side of Broadway near McGill's was the first to go down when demolition work was resumed.

A spokesman for Lipsitt, Inc., said today that the job of razing all the remaining structures is expected to be finished early in June.

Would Have Allies Take Troops 100 Miles From City

Berlin, May 9 (AP)—Russia says she will agree to a city-wide election in Berlin if Allied troops moved more than 100 miles back to West Germany. There appears little chance the Soviet condition will be accepted.

Along with four other demands calculated to give East German Communists the upper hand in the elections, a Russian note last night proposed withdrawal of all occupation troops from the city. Russian troops would need to move only to Berlin's outskirts. American, British and French soldiers would have to go to the Soviet zone border on Elbe river, more than 100 miles to the west. Guarded but cool first reactions to the Russian response were registered by two of the three western commanders who three weeks ago proposed the city-wide ballot.

Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the American occupation chief here, said he found "little encouragement" in the Russian note. The British commander, Maj. Gen. Geoffrey K. Bourne, termed the reply "a very roundabout way of saying no."

Taylor added he found "some consolation" that "even the Soviets cannot be silent before the deep desire of Berlin to be reunited."

Bourne said he was glad to see some response to the western appeals for free elections.

Might Hold Meeting

An American spokesman indicated the three western commanders might meet today to see if any of the Russian conditions could be accepted.

The Soviets demanded, in addition to the troop withdrawal, 1. Scrapping of the occupation law now in force in West Berlin. Under it the western powers gave their occupation zones self-government except in matters of foreign policy and security.

2. Permission for all Communist-inspired East Berlin organizations including the Red "National Front" to function freely in the western sectors.

3. Abolition of sector boundaries.

4. Restoration by the western allies of voting privileges to all former Nazis except those who lost the franchise because of conviction in war crimes.

In Paris U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson said the Russian offer probably would be disastrous.

Common Council Meeting Is Planned

The Common Council will meet in special session at 7:30 p. m. today to determine what action can be taken to expedite the proposed extension of Florence and Abbey streets for a new home building development.

A deed for the necessary land has been offered to the city by Mr. Helen Conrath and the proposal was referred to the B.P.W., planning board and city engineer at the April meeting of the council.

The B.P.W. at its May 28 meeting referred it to the city engineer and planning board. City Engineer Arthur J. Hallinan and Ernest A. Stouling, public works superintendent, have been invited to tonight's session. The city engineer recently returned to work after recovering from pneumonia.

Howell Says Not for Double

Boston, May 9 (AP)—New York city's $100-a-day rainmaker can't be induced to stop making rain—even at double the price.

Harvard Prof. Wallace F. Howell sent that reply yesterday to the management of a Fairbanks, N. Y., park.

The amusement park, across the Hudson from New York, had complained that rain—either Howell-produced or natural—was hurting its business.

Howell suggested that the management might aid science by donating the equivalent of 15 days pay at the offered rate to Mount Washington Observatory, a non-profit institution of which he is director.

The money could be used, Howell said, "for research on the constitution of clouds."

Supreme Court Upholds Non-Communist Provisions

Washington, May 9 (AP)—The Supreme Court sees no violation of the constitution in the non-Communist oath provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

By vote of five to one, the high tribunal yesterday upheld the power of Congress to compel union officials to swear they are not Communists if they wish to get the assistance of the National Labor Relations Board.

President Laughs at His Critics

Chief Executive Pledges Development of West Despite Labels of 'Socialism'

Fears 'Isolation'

Third World War Note Is Sounded in Casper Speech

Aboard Truman Train, May 9 (AP)—President Truman declared today his administration will push the development of the west over the opposition of "reactionary forces" of "privilege and greed" with their philosophy of "Teapot Dome."

The President carried his day and night cross-country stumping tour into Wyoming after telling an agricultural crowd at Lincoln, Neb., enactment of the controversial Brannan farm plan would help assure "peace and prosperity for ourselves and the world."

In a speech prepared for an audience today at Casper, Wyo., the Chief Executive described the new Kortis Dam, 50 miles away, as a source of "wealth and strength for the people of the world."

And he scoffed at those who cry "socialism," "regimentation," or "boondoggle" at government water and land resource development.

As the day proceeded he continued to talk to large and apparently happy crowds who jammed the tracks around his private car in the chatty, neighborly fashion that was his "vote appeal" in 1948.

Like at Pacific Junction, Iowa, yesterday where he told them he wanted them to look at their "faded map" to see if he is the same fellow who came out "looking for votes two years ago." He added he was 66 even if they thought he didn't look it.

Mr. Truman revived the old "Teapot Dome" oil scandal at Casper, contrasting the philosophy of "Teapot Dome" with that behind the construction of the Kortis Dam.

Warns of Isolationism

The solemn note he sounded in speeches yesterday in Illinois and Iowa, where he warned the west that a return to "isolationism" could bring on a "third world war" erupt into his Casper talk.

"We are engaged in a world-wide struggle to bring lasting peace to the world," he said. "In that struggle we are being opposed by a cynical imperialism which asserts that freedom and democracy are soft and incapable of strong action."

By developing projects like the Kortis Dam, Mr. Truman continued, this country "can prove how false, how hollow, are the claims of communism."

In the democratic tradition, he added, "we shall move forward on the path of freedom and peace."

In the same vein, Mr. Truman told his farm audience at Lincoln last night that the production payment plan sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan "is the best plan yet proposed for getting an abundant production of perishable crops consumed without knocking the bottom out of the farmer's income."

Under it the government would pay the farmers the difference between what they receive at the market for perishable crops and a predetermined "fair return."

Denounces Brannan Plan

In Washington, Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) denounced the Brannan Plan as "that economic monstrosity carrying fines and jail sentences for farmers who refuse to go on step upon command of Washington bureaucrats."

"The President obviously is playing politics with the farmers' problems," Wherry said, "trying to please C.I.O. bosses and Americans for Democratic Action with dirt cheap prices for food and win the farmers' vote with offers of bribery from the public treasury."

Would Cut Fund

Washington, May 9 (AP)—House Republican leaders agreed today to try to cut $200,000,000 from the $29,000,000,000 omnibus appropriation bill. The agreement was reached at a meeting of the G.O.P. policy committee.

Bicycle Evidence In Boy's Suit for $75,000 Injuries

A damaged brown-trimmed yellow bicycle was received in evidence this morning in the $75,000 personal injury suit brought in Supreme Court on behalf of Bernard Heidkamp, 16, who claims injuries sustained in an automobile-bicycle accident last May.

Motocycle Patrolman Ernest Baruff, called to the stand by Mrs. Heidkamp, testified that he saw the bicycle when he first saw the defendant's automobile. He saw this when he first arrived on the scene of the accident on May 12, 1934, at the intersection of Wynkoop place and Foxhall avenue, Baruff testified.

Attorney Flanagan also questioned Baruff concerning the accident. He asked Baruff if he saw the bicycle when he first saw the defendant's automobile. He saw this when he first arrived on the scene of the accident on May 12, 1934, at the intersection of Wynkoop place and Foxhall avenue, Baruff testified.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Henry Groser will be held from his home in Creek Rock, Wednesday at 9:15 a. m. to St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, where a Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Burial will be in Rosendale Plains Cemetery. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Mary Sleight of Kingston. Mr. Groser, who was ill for a long period, was a carpenter by trade. He was born in LeFevre Falls.

Funeral services for Jesse De Witt were held on Monday at 2 p. m. at the Johnson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and were largely attended, with a profusion of beautiful floral pieces. The services were conducted by the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, who also officiated at the graveside in Monticello cemetery. Bearers were Edward Fox, Chester Fox, Arthur Fox, Clarence Uhl, Robert Gully and William Mohr.

Sebastian Straley of 196 Hasbrouck avenue died at an early hour this morning after a short illness. Mr. Straley was one of the oldest residents of this city, where he was born and lived his entire life. In his early life he was a boat captain on the Hudson river, and in later years was a ship carpenter. At the time of his death he was employed by the City Department of Public Works. He was a member of the Local Order of Moose, Ulster County Civil Service Employees Association, Chapter 456, and the Carpenters Union of which he was one of the original organizers. Surviving are his wife, who before marriage was Carrie Fox, two sons, Louis M. and Henry J., and one daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Hurling, also several nephews and nieces, nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren. The funeral will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, thence to the Holy Cross Church, where a Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in Monticello Cemetery.

Marlborough Women Get Jail Sentences

Two Marlborough women, accused in separate assault cases, pleaded guilty to third degree assault charges and were sentenced to 30 days in jail each by Judge of the Peace Fred C. Woolsey Monday afternoon.

Florine Powell, 18, accused of striking her father, Albert Powell, 38, a bottle on the head, and Katie Taylor, 35, charged with striking Marvin Moore, 26, with a bottle on May 1, had entered innocent pleas on second degree assault charges last week but changed their pleas to guilt on reduced charges of third degree assault.

The conditions of Powell and Moore, both of whom are from Marlborough, were reported as improving after they had suffered head lacerations, state police said.

Blamed for Damage

A hit-and-run driver who made a "U-turn" on Route 9W after striking one automobile was blamed by state police for damaging three automobiles, in addition to his own. Monday night, Troopers said, an unknown vehicle, traveling north on 9W one mile north of Kingston, struck the automobile of Frank Morse of Glenville. The unknown vehicle then turned around and headed south. In doing so, it struck the automobile of Albert Benicase, 22, of 38 St. James street, and a third automobile, whose owner is also unknown at present, state police said. The drivers were unable to obtain the license number of the hit-and-run vehicle. No personal injuries were reported.

High School Band

The Apple Blossom festival is over and in as much as the committee started from scratch, it was a success in a small way. Stangers and neighbors crowded the streets early even though the skies weren't promising. The purpose of this festival is to bring our surrounding beauty, which isn't excelled in the United States, to the attention of our Hudson Valley or in other words, for one day praise it, laud it and thank God for it. So we placed some beautiful youth and girls on floats, and paraded, after which the festival was chosen to preside as our blossom queen until next year. As this is a day in which we think of terms of beauty, we naturally include music, which personalities the very word. But alas, our High School Band, of which we are all so proud, did not receive permission from our Local Musician's Union to participate. May I ask why that band must ask any organization for permission to parade? That Band is not supported by any organization—it belongs to the people—the taxpayers who support it. It is a part of our local High School. When it became time two weeks ago to choose our Ulster County Queen—in order, to make it a gala event, we wished to hire an orchestra. We wanted six pieces, the union said you must take ten, we did, asked no questions, the orchestra did well, and every one was happy. Now thoughts go back to perhaps 14 years ago. Our local Lions Club, which is always civic minded, sponsored a children's orchestra. They bought big, old gold uniforms. However by the time the uniforms came (one day before Memorial Day) some of the children grew several inches. Many mothers lengthened trousers all through the night so that the children could "tear" their horns. Came Memorial Day. The children assembled on Academy Green, with light in their eyes surpassing any shining star, but alas, they were dimmed because the union refused to allow them to parade, and remember that was a Memorial Parade, a patriotic day parade. Long since the mothers of those children have packed away the cherished instruments, but, still, tain their affiliations and beliefs subject only to possible loss of positions which Congress has concluded are being abused to the injury of the public.

Further, said Vinson, the provision does not unduly infringe freedoms of speech and press protected by the constitution's first amendment. Anyway, he declared, the case which Congress has found would subvert the public interest can not escape all regulation, because, at the same time, they carry on legitimate political activities.

The majority ruling brought a sharp dissent from Justice Black. He said that under Vinson's reasoning affiliation with any other political party could be proscribed. Black contended that neither of the major political parties was likely to "turn this weapon on the other."

The oath provision was attacked by the C.I.O. United Steel Workers of America and the C.I.O. American Communications Association. Officers of both unions have filed non-Communist oaths, but pressed their fight against what they called "illegal requirement."

Russia Sets

Withdrawal of western troops, said a high British official, would "simply be an invitation for the Communists to walk in and take over."

His words were echoed by Carl Hubert Schwennicke, leader of the west zone Foreigners Party, who declared Russian troops could be back in the city in half an hour.

"It could happen," he said, "that 'unrest develops' in the city and Soviet troops are 'called in to restore order.'"

The Russian proposal came in an atmosphere of increasing concessions to the Germans by the western allies and widespread German discontent at the recent Soviet announcement that repatriation of German war prisoners from Russia has ended. West German officials claim the Soviets still hold hundreds of thousands of German prisoners of war.

Only yesterday Acheson and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were reported to have agreed in Paris, subject to British approval, to give the West German republic virtually complete control of political and economic affairs. Military control would be retained by the allies.

Also yesterday, western occupation authorities turned over to the West German regime control of a wide range of German industry. A rigid prohibition of any rearmament was maintained, however.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 9 (AP)—Oil shares edged in front of a steady stock market today.

Price changes on the whole were too small to indicate a decisive trend. Fractional gains outnumbered losses by a modest margin.

Trading was even slower than yesterday, when 1,680,000 shares changed hands in the smallest turnover since early April.

Oils were favored yesterday, with some climbing to 1940-50 highs although on limited volume. Increased demand for petroleum.

High-priced Superior Oil of California was a casualty but this issue shot up nine points Monday.

Higher prices were paid for Plymouth Oil, Socony-Vacuum, Sinclair, Standard Oil (N. J.), Gulf Oil, Barnsdall, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone and Telegraph, Phelps Dodge, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, American Woolen, Virginia-Carolina Chemical, Johns-Manville and Western Union.

Selective demand appeared for railway issues in the market. U. S. Government bonds were on a firm footing in over-the-counter dealings.

Oils also attracted backing in the curb, among them Humble, McChesney, P. N. T. P. C., Am. Smelting and Refining Co., American Tel. & Tel., American Tobacco Class B., Anaconda Copper, Atchafalpa, Topoka & Santa Fe, Avco, Baldwin Locomotive, Baltimore & Ohio R.R., Bendix, Bethlehem Steel, Borg-Warner, Briggs Mfg. His words were echoed by Carl Hubert Schwennicke, leader of the west zone Foreigners Party, who declared Russian troops could be back in the city in half an hour.

"It could happen," he said, "that 'unrest develops' in the city and Soviet troops are 'called in to restore order.'"

The Russian proposal came in an atmosphere of increasing concessions to the Germans by the western allies and widespread German discontent at the recent Soviet announcement that repatriation of German war prisoners from Russia has ended. West German officials claim the Soviets still hold hundreds of thousands of German prisoners of war.

Only yesterday Acheson and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman were reported to have agreed in Paris, subject to British approval, to give the West German republic virtually complete control of political and economic affairs. Military control would be retained by the allies.

Also yesterday, western occupation authorities turned over to the West German regime control of a wide range of German industry. A rigid prohibition of any rearmament was maintained, however.

out at Grand Forks, N. D., as the Red river crest hit 45.5 feet, 17 1/2 feet above flood stage. Additional rain was forecast for much of the flooded area. There were more than 200 families forced from their homes in Grand Forks and 300 families were evacuated from East Grand Forks, Minn., across the river.

Other communities endangered by the floodwaters in North Dakota included Minot, Bismarck, Grand Forks and Bemidji. At Grand Forks, the Red river, normally 100 feet wide—spread over an area of seven miles. Nearly all homes and business places were flooded.

Drinking water was limited in milk tank trucks to the 300 residents of Warren, Minn. The trucks were met by boats and the water was poured into milk cans and delivered by boat to the residents.

Other Minnesota communities fighting floodwaters included Atkinson, where a score of families fled their homes as the Mississippi river overflowed. Floodwater, northward of Duluth, was 75 per cent inundated by the overflow of the St. Louis river.

Cool weather prevailed in many parts of the flood area. The chilly temperatures covered the northern half of the country while generally warm weather continued over the southern half. Readings in the 30's were reported over the Dakotas, the northern and central Rocky Mountain states and most of New England early today.

There were thundershowers from Minnesota and Wisconsin southward into Missouri and eastward over the southern half. Readings in parts of North Dakota. A rainfall of 4.71 inches in rain was reported yesterday in Concordia, Kans.

Tornadoes hit areas in Nebraska and Iowa. A twister struck Auburn, in southeast Nebraska, damaging several buildings. A small tornado swept Red Oak, in southwestern Iowa, destroying the main hangar at the city's airport and damaging six planes. No injuries were reported in the two communities.

"Since Bender and Smith have confessed their repentance they are being released and deported in line with the policy of the Chinese People's Committee for Liberation Affairs toward prisoners."

The broadcast said Communists had released four captured U. S. airmen last year after Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger, then commander of the U. S. western Pacific fleet, "admitted their mistakes in a personal letter and guaranteed that similar occurrence would happen again."

Ruthlessness Planned

It concluded: "Any subversive activity of the American imperialists enmeshed upon the sacred sovereign rights of China will be dealt with ruthlessly by the Chinese people."

In Hong Kong, U. S. Consul General Karl Brandt, told of the impending release said, "I hope it's true." Officials said it was likely Bender and Smith would be taken to Tientsin and placed aboard a ship.

The State Department had made repeated efforts to obtain the release of the two airmen, but refused to disclose where the men were held and last October, they didn't even know where Smith and Bender were.

Both Bender and Smith are married. Their wives often have sought their release.

In Long Beach, Smith's wife, Ruth, said she "regretted and relieved" intended to go and get him myself but now it looks as if I won't have to.

In Chicago, Bender's wife, Shirley, said, "It's true, it must be true."

The Smiths have two boys, Michael, 12, and Patrick, 18 months. The Benders have a daughter, Kathy, 4.

Valley Electrical Men Are Hosts at Industry Meeting

Fifty-four Kingston electrical contractors, builders, architects and representatives of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation attended a dinner meeting last night at the El Com. which industry representatives heard experts of the General Electric Company discuss methods for building better, more practical homes for residents of the Mid-Hudson Valley.

The meeting was arranged by the Steering Committee of four electrical leagues—the Catskill Mountain Electrical League, the Ulster County Electrical League, the Dutchess County Electrical Contractors' Association, and the Electrical League of Newburgh. The electrical contractors invited the builders and architects of the Mid-Hudson Valley to the meeting was a first for all groups.

Donald F. Bishop of West Shannan, president of the Ulster County Electrical League, presided. The first speaker, Donald G. Kinsell, manager of engineering for the General Electric Company, discussed the importance of building ample electric service in new homes to provide adequately for future heavy loads. He pointed out that each year residential use of electricity moves upward and warned that a contractor or architect who fails to provide even larger electric loads for the future is in danger of being out of the market in a short time.

Victor Calkin, in charge of the architectural engineering service of the General Electric Home Bureau, spoke of electric kitchens. As a consulting architect for General Electric for 18 years, Mr. Calkin has supervised and designed the installation of close to 50,000 electric kitchens, including a kitchen in the White House in Washington, D. C., which was close to $200,000. Mr. Calkin urged contractors and architects to provide sufficient kitchen space for convenient use of appliances by housewives.

Albert J. Broek, merchandise manager of major appliances for General Electric, said the industry men that it is easy to sell new houses if they are completely equipped electrically with modern appliances. He stated that a house fully equipped with modern appliances is a real inducement to a home buyer and also a better business for the appliance dealer.

Seated at the speakers' table in addition to Mr. Bishop and the other speakers were William J. Slater, president of the Dutchess County Electrical Contractors' Association; N. I. Flemons, president of the Electric League of Newburgh; and William P. Baumann of Greenville, president of the Catskill Mountain Electric League.

Aviation News in County

Fifteen Kingston Civil Air Patrol members toured Electrol Incorporated last week guided by George Dewey Logan, factory manager. The tour included all stages of production, beginning in the engineering department, where the various hydraulic parts are designed, through their actual machining and various phases of testing and inspection.

The hydraulic landing gear "drop-testing" room, containing equipment recently purchased from LaGuardia Field, was demonstrated to the group by John C. Ceccarelli, Electrol's stress engineer and former C.A.P. member. Here the gear to be tested is mounted on a weighted carriage supported by four beams, hydraulically raised to a desired height and then released in a free fall. Assimilated landing conditions are set up to comply with the various types of landing fields planes may encounter. For example, landing gear for the navy's jet "Banshee" had to be tested on concrete, wood and iron. When the gear hits, the stress analysis is recorded on an accelerometer.

"It's not unlike a gullotine," exclaimed Kappy Weeks, C.A.P. adjutant while watching the mechanism in operation. Logan said Electrol has the only apparatus of this type available for commercial use in the eastern states. Eleanor Dumenigo, 58, Pearl street, received her first airplane ride last week with Pilot Howard "Red" Kammerer, manager of a local drive-in theatre. "The biggest thrill," said Mrs. Dumenigo, "was waving down at my husband, Ralph, from 400 feet."

William Boehlke, operator of Spring Valley Airport, and Dr. Edwin W. O'Dowd, Tappan, recently flew to Kingston-Ulster Airport to have their Piper PA-16 (Clipper) relicensed and to purchase new engines.

William H. Austin of Stotts-

ville has purchased Richard Till's Piper J-5 (Cruiser) and is having it relicensed and relicensed at Kingston-Ulster Airport.

Airport Is Dressed Up

Kingston Civil Air Patrol's project to redecorate its base of operations, Kingston-Ulster Airport, went into full swing Thursday evening when members turned out with shovels and rakes to break and level a plot of land for a lawn. In the near future a barbecue pit will be built. That evening Angelo Ferraro of Glasco, applied for membership. He is a private pilot with land and sea-plane ratings.

Albert Kleister and Larry Williams of Lawrenceville street and Muriel Terra of Esopus avenue, this city, were taken on a sight-seeing flight over New York city by Joseph Philipovich, commanding officer of C.A.P. They viewed the Statue of Liberty, Staten Island and West Point as well as commercial and military airports including Idlewild, LaGuardia, Teterboro and Stewart Field.

Alex Weiss, beverage distributor from Newburgh, has been taking flight instructions at Kingston-Ulster Airport.

Lee Lord, operator of Montgomery Airport and John Conway, landed at Kingston-Ulster to have their plane re-checked.

Activities at the New Paltz Airport were recently filmed by Alfred LaFredo and Daniel Carino of New York.

Kingston C.A.P. is cooperating with the New York State Board of Aeronautics in a project to air-mark neighboring towns and eliminate the danger of planes landing at abandoned airports. This week the squadron will reprint the air-marker chart. The old Kingston Airport which is no longer in operation.

Albert Rudich operator of Grossingers Airport, Monticello, flew his plane to Kingston-Ulster Airport for relicensing. He claims that he has had considerable success in his experiments with rain-making.

Judge Says Faith Is Major Factor in Combatting Reds

"Faith" as the answer to the menacing and ever-growing threat of communism provided the theme for an address by State Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth of Kingston to the officers and employees of the Napanoch Institution on the occasion of their third annual inter-faith communion breakfast at the Wayside Inn in Ellenville.

Saying "The beauty and pagantry of ancient Jewish worship, the reverent adoration of the Catholic Mass, and the silently bowed heads and hymns of Protestant services are outward manifestations of our faith," Judge Elsworth urged the recognition of this as "our greatest resource in the struggle to combat the evils of communism."

"The four gallant chaplains, one Jewish, one Catholic and two Protestant, who sacrificed their lives in the sinking of the American warship Dorchester in the recent war, died with arms entwined, each with a prayer on his lips, after giving up their life-belts to save others. Here was an example of the strength of faith which should move an inspiration to all Americans in the present crisis," the judge added.

Highly praising the motives of the breakfast, the fostering of better understanding among all Americans, Judge Elsworth declared that he felt it a distinct duty as an American to accept the invitation to speak.

The program was opened by Rabbi Herbert Bloom of Kingston. Sergeant George Winsman acted as toastmaster. Major Thomas J. Hanlon, superintendent of the institution, introduced Judge Elsworth. The Rev. Francis McGuire, Protestant chaplain, offered the closing prayer after the entire assemblage was led by Art Kahn in the singing of "God Bless America."

Invited guests in addition to Kahn included attorneys Leroy Lounsbury, Charles Kaiser, Ben Lonsstein, H. Westlake Coons and Philip Slutsky.

The program was arranged by Harry Shapiro, James Morrow and Sergeant Winsman.

During the afternoon baby showers were given to Mrs. James Palen and Mrs. Gerald DuBois. Attending the meeting were Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. William Cole, Mrs. Enorey Conklin, Mrs. Floyd Wells, Mrs. Lester Arnold, Mrs. Hallock Harris, Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Anna Miller, Mrs. Myron Shultz, Mrs. Martin Tonneson, Mrs. Roy Jensen, Mrs. Earl DeWitt, Mrs. James Palen, Mrs. Gerald DuBois, Mrs. Fred Bernard, Mrs. Evelyn Adams, Mrs. Edward Vidarie, Mrs. Ralph Tice, Mrs. Lillian Courter and the hostess, Mrs. Winters. The next meeting of the Society will be held Thursday afternoon, June 1, at the home of Mrs. Edward Nidrie, on the Dushner farm.

Boss Provides Baby-Sitters

Solothurn, Switzerland (AP)—When a Swiss watchmaker's wife needs a baby-sitter papa's boss provides one. And, under employee relations programs sponsored by watch manufacturers in the tiny Alpine democracy, if the small fry need additional attention from the "sitters," nurseries, classrooms, playgrounds, and even overnight and medical facilities are available. Located near the homes and factories in rural areas, the nurseries, schools are usually converted residences where mothers may leave their children while they shop, take a holiday or leave home in emergencies. At the nurseries are staffed by women trained in nursing, dietetics, educational and play procedure, and general child care. Some factories furnish the entire service gratis, while others charge small fees.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

1952 IS NOT SO FAR

Much earlier than ever, the 1952 campaign for the presidency has actually begun. The President's political tour is not only to win congressional seats in 1950, but to offset, if possible, a deterioration of his own popularity.

The defeat of Senator Pepper may indicate a trend, although it is too soon to know that. Nevertheless, George A. Smathers ran on what could be called the Republican Platform—one that many Republicans actually fear to employ—and he won. It may prove, on investigation, that conservatism in economics and politics and even international relations is gaining sufficiently in public esteem to make it unpleasant for Republican trimmers to continue to trim. This would strengthen the Republican Party considerably, as the division between conservative and opportunistic Republicans has kept that party in turmoil since Wendell Willkie and his satellite, Russell Davenport, split it.

Smathers stuck to a philosophy of American capitalism and he won against a pseudo-Socialist. He made no compromises with demagoguery or with racial or occupational groups. In effect, he said:

"If you believe in the socialism of Truman, Oscar Ewing, and the A. D. A., don't vote for me." And he won.

The Republican candidates for the presidency are not yet numerous, but they will weigh the Smathers victory each from his own standpoint. For instance, will Richard M. Nixon be re-elected to Congress? Few men have done as much to clarify the issue between Americanism and Communism.

What will Senator Taft's majority be in Ohio? In Florida, Smathers proved that his program appealed to labor and Negroes, in sufficient numbers, so that he could not be defeated by C.I.O. money. With the huge margin of victory, the C.I.O. is pouring into Ohio to reduce the Taft majority or will it ruin by a huge vote? Whatever happens in Ohio will have a crucial effect upon the Republican Party.

Facing Harry Truman as the Democratic candidate, the so-called practical politicians will continue to wonder how far they can go in their opposition. The trimmers will move to the right of Truman by slow motion; yet "Smathers went all out and won."

The presently discussed candidates are Harold Stassen, Dwight Eisenhower and Robert A. Taft. Thomas E. Dewey remains a puzzle even to his friends. His employment of the New Dealer, Jay Franklin, has not added to the comfort of his supporters, because they do not quite understand the purpose of having one on hand who had been similarly associated with Roosevelt, Truman and Henry Wallace.

On the other hand, if Thomas E. Dewey is re-elected governor of New York, he remains a candidate for the presidential nomination. Dewey is likely to be the Republican candidate for governor to succeed himself; the Democrats would have to find a singularly prominent figure to beat him. The best would be James A. Farley, if he would run.

General Eisenhower's public position is that he is not in politics. Unless he gets into the 1952 election, it will be difficult for him to meet the requirements of party regularity. Republicans are always on the alert against another Willkie.

Harold Stassen grows in popularity, particularly among business men and big game hunters. He is altogether a new following for rank and file, especially young folks. Stassen is to be taken very seriously as a candidate.

Robert A. Taft, often referred to as "Mr. Republican," represents a monumental political achievement in the history of the United States. He is a new following for rank and file, especially young folks. Stassen is to be taken very seriously as a candidate.

But this also is true: Neither Willkie nor Dewey to beat Taft down, won the elections for which they were nominated because it was believed that they, and not Taft, could win. Therefore, Taft's prospects revolve on the question: "How can you be so sure?" And nobody can be. If Taft gets a large vote in Ohio, he might be the Republican candidate. Smathers will have had something to do with that, if it happens. (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

AMOUNT OF FOOD EATEN IS IMPORTANT

In my student days the important factor in the diet was the daily amount of food eaten, that is, the total number of calories or heat units. A woman doing housework needed 2,000 calories daily, an office man 2,500 calories, a factory worker, 3,000 calories and a man doing heavy physical work 4,000 or more calories.

Nothing was known about vitamins and little about minerals. Because of the discovery of vitamins and the importance of minerals in recent years, little is written about calories, that is, the amount of food eaten daily.

In "The Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Ansel Keys, Minneapolis Laboratory of Physiological Hygiene, School of Public Health, University of Minnesota, states that in recent years the central importance of calories in the diet has been obscured by the phenomenal developments in other aspects of food and nutrition; that is, in the quality of the food together with the known importance to health of vitamins and minerals.

Dr. Keys states that these phenomenal developments in nutrition have taken the minds of the physicians, and of the general public, away from the importance of the amount of food the body needs to supply heat, energy and the work of the body processes. The hard lessons of the World Wars is that the most serious food problem is a shortage of food or calories. We have so many overweight people in the United States and Canada that our problem, at present anyway, is overeating.

While in some individual cases special attention must be paid to "excess" amount of food eaten daily—diabetes, tuberculosis, overweight, underweight—there are now available tables of the amount of food necessary for normal men and women according to their work or occupation. Some food research workers think, however, that these tables of food requirements underestimate the amount of food really needed daily.

If you are well, feel like doing your daily work, if weight has remained the same for past few years and is about the weight for your height and build recommended by tables, don't increase or decrease the number of calories eaten daily.

If overweight and sluggish, decrease the number of calories. If underweight and feel weak, increase calories. If underweight and past middle age, but feel strong, do not increase your calories. Roughly, 2,000 calories for light workers, 3,000 for medium, and 4,000 for heavy workers.

Eating Your Way to Health

Be sure you are getting the all-round daily diet for your type of build, occupation, etc. Write today for Dr. Barton's handy booklet on this subject entitled "Eating Your Way to Health." DECEASED 75 YEARS

Chicago (AP)—Back in 1877 the city council decided to give a name to a block-long lane that runs from State to Dearborn streets north of Adams street recently. 73 years later officials figured it was time to give it a street sign there. They did. The name: Marble Place.

"The Student Prince," would fare if they could now be produced for the first time.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—It is now possible to give the complete facts in the Russian attack on the American navy plane over the Baltic—an incident which literally made the capitals of Europe hold their breath.

Most of the facts are now known to the Russians, so the American public should be entitled to know what the Russians know. In fact, the Russians knew of the plane's departure and the nature of its mission even before it left Port Lyautey in Morocco, North Africa. They also knew that the plane was equipped with high-powered radar and electronic equipment capable of watching Russian amphibian maneuvers and the flight of Russian rockets over the Russians' most secret rocket-testing ground—the Baltic.

Just how they knew this is not known. But it might have been posted on the bulletin board at Port Lyautey before the plane took off. The bulletin board was posted in a public place, and the navy made the mistake of giving the ratings of all 10 members of the plane's crew. This showed they were specialists in electronics and could have tipped off the Russians that the plane was on a radar mission.

The Russians have had unwitting observers at our naval maneuvers, but usually in fishing boats or submarines. However, it is much easier to chart rocket flights from an airplane, which was why the navy plane was used.

British Watched Incident
This particular plane flew from Morocco to Wiesbaden, Germany, stopped for fuel, then proceeded to the Baltic, and was about 30 miles off the Latvian coast headed toward the secret Russian naval base at Libau when four Russian fighter planes came into sight.

What happened from this point on can be told with almost complete accuracy, because the entire incident was witnessed by the British through a radar screen. The four Russian fighters, obviously lying in wait for the navy plane, ordered it to land. However, the American crew had strict orders not to let their highly classified electronics equipment get into foreign hands, so they put out to sea.

The British radar observation showed the Privator swerved sharply, with the Russian fighters in hot pursuit. The plane was shot down almost immediately.

Does Crew Still Live?
The fact that British radar witnessed the incident was why the State Department was so positive in replying to the Russian note. The United States was also quick to identify the four Russian pilots who received the order of the Red banner as the pilots responsible for shooting our plane. British radar was the reason.

What surprised U. S. officials at first was that the Russians announced the event to the world in a note of protest. Reason for a publicity, U. S. officials now conclude, is that the Russians knew the plane had been observing Russian rocket maneuvers and determined to put the United States on the spot.

Since the incident occurred, the recovered life rafts and the British radar's estimate that the plane was definitely 30 miles off the Latvian coast. Examination of the rafts shows that the plane hit the water with an impact. The holes in one raft, however, are not bullet holes, so the crew, if they got into the rafts, were not fired on.

Speculation still continues as to whether the crew could have been picked up by the Russians later. Latvian fishermen reported seeing a Soviet destroyer and several patrol boats rush out from Port Libau in the direction of the crash. The navy has found several contradictions to this report, however, and doesn't rely on it.

Note—Chief conclusion to be drawn from the Baltic incident is that with Russian submarines scampering close to the American shore, with American planes in the air, with Soviet installations in the Baltic and with Russian demonstrations being deliberately incited in Berlin, anything can happen.

Government Cookbook
Congressman Howard Smith, the frock-coated Virginian from across the Potomac river in Alexandria, Va., still winces when he is asked about cookbooks.

Cookbooks have become the bane of Smith's existence. In fact the good "deacon," as he is called in Virginia, got so riled over the model cookbook published by the Department of Agriculture, that he stormed to the floor of the House and said:

"Maybe some of you heard about this cookbook. The morning papers said it was going to be given away free, and both my telephones were clogged all day long. Now it has gotten to where the idea is coming in about the cookbook addressed as 'Congressman Howard W. Smith Cookbook Department.' I don't think there is a single member of this house that ever had the idea the government was going to spend $75,000 of the taxpayers' money on this doggone cookbook."

If this was the last Congress, man Smith thought he had heard of the cookbook, he was sadly mistaken. In fact, Virginia housewives thereupon deluged his office with letters. They said the government should be commended for helping jaded housewives find new recipes. One delegation came to the Department of Agriculture asking if there wasn't some special way for the "neglected constituents" of Representative Smith to get cookbooks.

This female wrath finally converted the economy-minded congressman and he began passing out cookbooks. He even appended a pleasant note signed with a rubber stamp to each gift copy.

The congressman, who looks like a 19th century Virginia squire, will now breeze through to another town—cookbooks or no cookbooks. This was assured when Mrs. Helen Miller, wife of Congressman Pickens Miller, chief foe of Senator Byrd, got no help from the administration. The Democratic National Committee sports like a bull at a red flag at the mention of Representative Smith, but runs in the opposite direction when it comes to defeating him.

Note—"Deacon" Smith got his figures wrong when he said "this doggone cookbook" would cost the taxpayers $75,000. Actually, it has been so popular that it has made money for the treasury.

Today in Washington

'Bank Affiliates,' Abolished in 1920's, Have Never Been Followed by Good Substitutes

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 9—President Truman's message to Congress recommending that "equity capital" and credit loans be made available to business through a new system of loan insurance and investment institutions goes to the heart of a problem which, in one form or another has been before Congress ever since the depression of 1920-1933.

In the melee of crusades and criticism, the so-called "bank affiliates"—the companies which were affiliated with banks and did much of the financing of American corporations in the 1920's—were abolished. They have never been followed by any constructive substitutes. There has been a recurrent outcry since that some means should be provided to assure equity capital for the enterprises not big enough to warrant attention through the flotation of stock issues. This deficiency has led radicals to make many proposals for government financing or government ownership.

But Mr. Truman comes forward with something which he and his advisers have striven to formulate in such a manner as to take the government itself out of the loan business and put the money in private financing with government coordination and government insurance as a stopgap.

Broadly speaking, banks have hesitated for years to extend credits that are in fact capital loans. They have felt, and rightly so, that demand deposits should not be used to make the same time large loans in commercial financing have been syndicated by the banks or taken in their entirety by insurance companies. Likewise, although frowned upon in early years, installment financing of automobiles and many other products is now an established credit device. There was a time when banks did not like installment financing.

Even the real estate loans made under the so-called insured plan, whereby banks have made housing loans or have participated in the making of mortgage loans along with various insurance agencies, are really of recent origin.

When the President, therefore, comes forward with what he calls a "pioneer undertaking" in the financing of business, it is natural that first reports should say that bankers are cool to the idea. As they examine and study the plan, however, making alternate suggestions, it may turn out to be the very thing that will increase the earnings of the banks without any such risks as would be involved in individual transactions as contrasted with group risks. The principle of insuring a lot of loans through an over-all agency makes it possible for the banks to take a minority percentage risk while the government took the major percentage risk.

The plan has several parts. One relates solely to loans of $25,000 or less which would run for five years. No one in the government would put up such loans and the banks would take a minority percentage risk while the government took the major percentage risk.

The second part of the plan is even more important. It proposes that "national investment companies" be set up in which the banks and private investors would invest. The major purpose of these companies, as the President phrases it, "would be to provide equity capital and long-term loans for efficiently-managed businesses unable to finance themselves on reasonable terms through the organized securities markets."

Actually the public and banks would invest in the national investment companies—buying their bonds—while the companies would, in turn, finance the equity-capital needs of worthy businesses. There is no doubt here as to the size of loans but it is assumed that the plan will primarily take care of the needs of business ranging from $25,000 to $1,000,000. This is the bracket of financing about which there has been considerable discussion in recent years, and the President says this scheme of plan "is designed to fill the most serious remaining gap in the business financial structure."

Coincident with these developments, the President proposes that both the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Reserve Bank be authorized to make business loans be cut down, so that the latter may be abolished altogether and the former would be retained only for those rare cases where private investment companies find themselves unable to obtain financing and yet where credit extension of large size may be needed.

The whole plan is designed to maintain a private-enterprise system of credit. It is the first important move toward the "right" in financing technique which the President's administration has made, and it would be most unfortunate if consideration of such a plan became involved in partisan politics just because the President happens to sponsor it. Freeman R. Hathway of the Steamship Historical Society of America, who came to Kingston to arrange for the "Brinkerhoff" ferry to be towed to the Marine Historical Museum at Mystic, Conn., and also visit a relative, Mrs. Frank Curtis, of 160 Fair street, stopped in to look at the models, maps and story of the "Brinkerhoff" which my father had made some 20 years ago. He said, it was indeed sad, that the originals of these two, as well as the "Mary Powell" were not preserved as they are trying to do at the Museum. He said that the "Brinkerhoff" was in Kingston and Roundout, where boats are repaired would be an ideal spot for a Marine Museum. As was noted in the Freeman before, the newspapers of Manhattan carried illustrated stories that $1,500 was needed for towing the "Brinkerhoff" to the Museum, and some $1,000 was raised that way, and besides they even received a free towing service. No doubt, if some 20 years ago, we would have made our way known to the people of New York state, the too costly and long money needed to be paid, and preserve the three famous boats, but now of course it is too late.

In case some folks think this is a great fuss over an old boat, I received the following from the New York Historical Society, of 170 Central Park West, at 76th street, New York city, which opens its recent accessions exhibition this month. This showing comprises more than 200 of the society's more important acquisitions during the past 12 months and which covers all phases of its collecting activities, including paintings, manuscripts, rare books, bronzes, costumes, textiles, swords, photographs, and book plates.

Prominent in the exhibit is the original bell from Robert Fulton's "Clermont," the first practical steamboat to navigate the Hudson as far as Albany, making its first trip in 1807. The bell was used also on the replica of the "Clermont," constructed for the Hudson Fulton Celebration of 1909 and its receipt climaxes a series of gifts from the Hudson River Day Line and its former president, Alfred Van Santvoord Gleason, closely allied in apparel and coming from the same source is the Passage Book of the famous and beloved Hudson river steamboat, "Mary Powell," one of a collection of manuscripts, timetables, blueprints, and other documents during the year which relate to the "Mary Powell" and the Hudson River Day Line and which now reside in the society's library. Other rich additions to the library include an original manuscript of Robert Fulton's "experiments on the model of a boat to be moved by a steam engine, dated Jan. 9, 1803."

They have the bell of the "Clermont" and we didn't keep the replica which stood for years in our Kingston Point Park lagoon until it fell apart. We had the "Mary Powell" right in our front dock. Perhaps some of the readers and their children will have a chance to visit this New

LeFevre Reports Exam to Be Held For Naval Academy

Congressman Jay LeFevre announces he will have a vacancy to be filled at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis for entrance in July 1951 from the 30th Congressional district of the state.

On Monday, July 17, the United States Civil Service Commission will conduct at its usual examining points, and at any first class or second class post office, a preliminary qualifying examination for nomination to fill this vacancy. In order to be considered a candidate the candidate must be (1) a citizen of the United States; and (2) a bona fide resident of the 30th Congressional District. He must be unmarried, physically fit, and not less than 17 years of age and not more than 21 years of age on April 1 of the calendar year in which he is to enter the Academy, except those who have served honorably not less than one year in the armed forces of the United States and who possess the other qualifications who may be admitted between the ages of 17 and 23 years.

Those men who believe they meet the above requirements should write immediately to Congressman Jay LeFevre, Room 1710, New House Office Building, Washington, D. C., for an application blank and information pamphlet. In order to be listed for the preliminary examination, applications must be on file in the office of Congressman LeFevre not later than Friday, May 19, 1950. Congressman LeFevre does not anticipate a vacancy in the United States Military Academy at West Point for 1951.

W. P. Hamilton Dies

Santa Barbara, Calif., May 8 (AP)—William Pierson Hamilton, 81, retired New York financier and former partner of J. P. Morgan, died yesterday after a long illness. His home was in Bar Harbor, Me., but he also maintained an estate in the Montecito section here. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Philip M. Rhineland of Washington, D. Air Force, stationed in Washington; Laurens M. of Plains, Va., and Alexander of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., services will be held here Thursday.

Total timber resources in the public domain in the U. S. are estimated at between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000 in value.

Hi-Y Club May Day Picnic on Friday

Members of the Bookwalter Hi-Y Club have completed plans for the annual May Day picnic, which will be held at DeWitt Lake on Friday, May 12, following the May Day exercises at the high school. All students are invited. Tickets, which include the price of bus transportation to and from DeWitt Lake, may be obtained at the school. The entire proceeds from this picnic will be used by the Hi-Y to take a group of deserving young Kingston children to New York city to see a major league baseball game. The program at the lake will include ping pong, boating, swimming, dancing and horseshoes. It is expected that this year's affair will be the biggest ever held by the Hi-Y.

State Zionists Coming to City for Council Meeting

JACQUES TORCZYNER
Zionists throughout New York state will gather Sunday at 1 p. m. to hear Jacques Torczyner speak at the last meeting of the year of the Regional Administrative Council of the Zionist Organization of America to be held in the B'nai B'rith building, 265 Wall street.

Torczyner, who upon his return to Europe in 1946, is largely responsible for the formation of the World Federation of General Zionists in Europe, arrived first in this country in 1940. He was editor of the official publication of the Belgium Zionist Federation and leader of the Zionist Youth Movement in Belgium. He is a member of the Executive of the Zionist Organization of America, vice-chairman of the National Administrative Council and chairman of the Committee for World General Zionist Affairs. Irving Blatt of Woodbridge will preside at the meeting. Irving Abramowitz of Kingston is director. Plans will be made for the regional convention to be held in Ellenville on June 3 and 4.

It's a Honey...FOR LOOKS!

Ford did it again! For the second year running Ford walked off with the coveted New York Fashion Academy Award. A look will tell you why this beauty has captured America's heart...but it takes a "Test Drive" to tell you the inside story of '50 Ford Quality.

It's a Wower...FOR POWER!

One "Test Drive" and you'll feel the getaway power of Ford's V-8. One ride and you'll know the quiet of this great engine...a new kind of quiet that's built into Ford's 13-way stronger "Lifeguard" body, too. And remember, that Ford alone in its field offers you a V-8 or "Six."

It's a Saver...FOR YOUR PURSE!

Less money than you think will put this '50 Ford in your garage. It's so thrifty on gas and oil and so rugged that upkeep costs are 'way down. Ford's fine car quality means longer life, too, so you save money on its high resale value. Check Ford's economy...you'll be amazed to learn how little it costs to buy and own a '50 Ford.

Missionary Union
Spring Luncheon

The following is an official report of the recent spring luncheon held by the Women's Missionary Union.

(Official Report)

That only Christians hold the world together today was the keynote of an address by Miss Ruth Ransom, secretary of the Department of Women's Work of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church, during the recent annual spring luncheon of the Missionary Union of the Classis of Ulster held at the Reformed Church of the Comforter.

Speaking to a group of about 120 representatives of the several societies of the Classis, Miss Ransom described her experiences on a recent tour of mission stations in India and the Near East and gave many interesting and inspiring accounts of the consecrated service being rendered by the workers in the medical, educational and evangelistic fields.

Knowledge of the needs abroad and the work being done there leads us to the question, "what is our share in this? What can we do she asked."

Miss Ransom mentioned several opportunities which may occur to anyone. For one thing, she said, that we, as citizens, can do our utmost to send to Congress men and women who will be interested in having Christian people represent us in other lands. Again, she feels that since oil is very important in the Near East and since the executives of the oil companies are extremely influential people in that area, we should, if occasion presents itself, use our efforts to have as many of these executives men of high ideals and Christian character.

In closing the speaker urged that our highest interest be centered in our youth and put this question to her listeners: "If your daughter comes home from a youth rally, enthused by some missionary speaker, are you strong enough to say to her, have you thought seriously about your own talents or abilities along that line? Perhaps God can use you in some work, she added."

The program followed a luncheon served by the ladies of the host church in the newly furnished hall.

Mrs. Arthur E. Ondenool, president, presided and introduced the speaker. Following the opening prayer offered by Mrs. Charles Gustafson, Mrs. Laurine Kells sang "How Long Will Thou Forget Me" by Ole Speaks; Paul Barnum accompanied the soloist. Mrs. Frederick Sawitzky closed the meeting with a prayer.

Canned Precooked Ham

The small, canned precooked ham is convenient to have on an emergency shelf for unexpected guests. You can stud them with whole cloves, spread them with prepared mustard and brown sugar, and bake in a moderate oven until heated through. If there's also a can of sweet potatoes on your emergency shelf, all you have to do is add that and a green salad for delicious and quick-to-get ready main course.

Plan Operetta

The operetta, "Ask the Professor" will be presented by a group of ninth grade pupils May 25, 26 and 27 at the M.J.M. Auditorium.

This operetta is under the direction of Harry Streiter, English teacher. The music will be furnished by the M.J.M. Orchestra under the direction of Harry Boychun. Mrs. Dorothea Flick is directing the singing and Miss Jane Ward is directing the dancing. Members of the cast are Mary Meyers, Harold Miller, John Morris, Betty Brutto, Jean Wells, William DuBois, Carmella Petruzzio, Kenneth Hotelling and Karen Clausen.

Eighth Grade Play

The eighth year Dramatic Club presented the play "The New Look" over the M.J.M. public address system Tuesday during the ninth period. The play was written and directed by Barbara Chmura, pupil from the eighth grade. Pupils who participated were Marlon Kudson, Ann Griffin, Sondra Marcelli, Joe Montsey, Vergie Harris and Harriet Hornbeck.

Display Case

At the end of each eight-week period the display case in the lower front corridor is of interest to everyone. The craft work completed during that period is exhibited. This time the main interest is in basketry work done by pupils of Room 2 and Science A. The designs are unusual but well done. The pupils are proud of their work and many of their friends are stopping to pick out those of their friends. Miss Alice Costello is the teacher.

Interclass Competition

Recent interclass events between the eighth and ninth grades were a competition in short story writing, an oratorical contest and a singing competition. In the short story contest there were approximately three hundred entries. These stories were judged by Mrs. Herbert Greenwald. The first place was won by Elizabeth Nussbaum, eighth grader. The second place went to Ronald Vermooy, ninth grader. The third place was awarded to Joan Wilson, ninth grader. Fourth place was won by Norman Van Ness, ninth grader. Honorable mention went to Carol Goldleaf, Harvard Johnson and Sheldon Boice.

The oratorical and singing contest occurred in a special assembly program under the direction of Miss Isabel Malone. Barbara Chmura and Michael Flanagan announced the program. The oratorical contestants were Shirley Craig, Janice Long, Barbara Chmura, Leon Van Dyke, Frieda Cohn, Sherry Pearson, Larry Van Eiten, Harold Carlson, Robert Weisman and Martha Woolf. They were chosen in preceding elimination contest held by the ninth grade advisor, Miss Lora Kinkade and the eighth grade advisor, Mrs. Isabelle Dunn. Harold Carlson, ninth grader captured the first place. Robert Weisman and Frieda Cohn both from the eighth grade won second and third place respectively. Dr. Ruth Northway judged this contest.

Every pupil in the school participated in the singing competition. Mrs. Dorothea Flick taught the song "Yankee Doodle Dandy" to the assembled student body. After the entire group learned the song, the eighth and ninth grade classes competed in the singing of it. Mrs. John Snyder judged this contest. Both groups were considered on a par and were awarded the same number of points. The ninth grade now is leading by 26 points.

Roads Get Face Lift

Brussels (AP) — Belgian roads are undergoing a 46 million dollar face lift. Medieval highways, left behind by rail and canal in the transport race, are getting ready to help bolster Belgium's boast as the "Turntable of Europe." However, the 46 million dollars is only a fraction of what the Ministry of Public Works estimates is necessary. The director general of roads at the Ministry says it will take ten years and 400 million dollars to give the country a modern road network. Belgium's roads are about 100 years behind the times. Even main highways are still paved with stone cut blocks heaved by hand in southern Belgium.

VanLoan Arrested As Drunk After Automobile Crash

Leslie VanLoan, 44, of Port Ewen, was arrested by Officers Walter Van Steenburgh and Carl Janasiewicz, on a charge of driving while intoxicated following an accident at North Front street and Washington avenue last night.

Police were notified at 9:47 p. m., and found that Anson J. Manfro, 9 East Union street, was driving south on Washington avenue, and VanLoan was headed west on North Front street, when they were in collision.

Both cars were damaged and the Manfro sedan was towed from the scene.

Van Loan pleaded not guilty before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today and was released under $200 bail. He was represented by Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr., and the case was adjourned until May 16.

Desertions Are Reported

Berlin, May 9 (AP)—A flood of desertions appears to have hit the Russian zone "people's police." In an effort to plug the leak the Russians have assigned a special roving squad, led by Soviet secret police, to patrol East Berlin's borders nightly. This information came from seven deserters who fled to West Berlin during the past week. All claimed they were being trained as infantry troops and feared they were being eased into a new war.

Religious, Civic, Police Leaders Honor Detective Brophy

At the 25th anniversary dinner for Detective Clarence Brophy as a member of the Kingston Police Department, Monday in Cuneo's Restaurant, were (l. to r.) the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, police chaplain; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk; J. Allan Wood, former chief of police; Chief Raymond Van Buren and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and Catholic chaplain of the department observing Officer Guernsey Burger, Jr., president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Benevolent Association (left) presenting Brophy with a ring with police insignia. (Freeman Photo)

25 Years on Job, Brophy Feted by Police Officers

Detective Clarence Brophy was showered with tributes at the dinner in his honor Monday evening in Cuneo's Restaurant, commemorating his 25th anniversary as a member of the Kingston Police Department.

He received two gifts, a ring from the Kingston Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, which he served as an officer over a period of years, and one from the Kingston Uniformed Firemen's Association.

Brophy was lauded by speakers from the top ranks of the police department and civic and religious leaders at the event sponsored by the K.P.B.A.

A modest man, Brophy was brief but deeply sincere in his expression of thanks and appreciation for the consideration shown him at last night's testimonial arranged by the Patrolmen's Association.

Praised by Speakers
Among those that spoke of him as a law enforcement officer of ability, character and human understanding were the two police chaplains, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church; Chief Raymond Van Buren and J. Allan Wood, former chief; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Guernsey Burger, Jr., president of the P.B.A.

President Burger, as toastmaster, introduced former Chief Allan Wood as the first speaker, because Brophy joined the department under his tenure of office.

"We were glad to get this native Kingstonian," he said, "because he came to us from the New York State Police and had good schooling. He had met the exacting requirements of the Troopers was of strong physique and of good character, steady, honest and efficient."

"During the 15 years he served under me, he displayed all the qualities of a good police officer and I rejoiced at the announcement that he had been promoted to a detective.

Highly Regarded
"Clarence Brophy enjoys the respect of our citizenry and is highly regarded for the way he has performed his duty and served the public."

Chief Wood wished him many more years of good health and hoped he'd be able to remain a long time on the job.

Chief Van Buren referred to him as a friend of more than 50 years, and stressed the important factor that during his 25 years as a policeman under three chiefs not one complaint was ever registered against him.

Mayor Newkirk expressed pleasure over the record of Detective Brophy, referring to him as one of the most cooperative officers on the police department, which he called "as good as any in the state." He cited times when Detective Brophy has been called upon to sacrifice his own time in the performance of duty and remarked, "he has always done it cheerfully."

Gets Extra Vacation
During his congratulatory remarks, the mayor wished the jubilarian many more years of good health that he might continue his service to the public of Kingston.

As president of the police board, Mayor Newkirk said he and the commissioners had decided to extend Detective Brophy's vacation period an extra week, giving him three off with pay instead of the regular two.

The two police chaplains, Msgr. Drury and the Rev. Mr. Gollnick, not only paid tribute to Brophy but to the whole department. Kingston Police are courteous and obliging, they pointed out, and make a good and lasting impression on visitors to the city.

They referred to Detective Brophy's genial disposition, his spirit of cooperation with co-workers on the department and the respect he has for his chief.

Msgr. Drury referred to Detective Brophy as "an outstanding example of that spirit that makes me proud to be a chaplain of the Kingston Police Department."

List of Guests

Some of the guests introduced by Toastmaster Burger, who was as adept as any after-dinner speaker, were:

City Judge Raymond J. Mino, Police Captain William T. Roedel, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, R. R. Netter, managing editor, Kingston Daily Freeman; Dick

McCarthy, WKNY radio commentator; C. J. Tiano, sports editor, Kingston Daily Freeman; Wesley Crum, retired detective, Kingston Police Department; Lenville Reylea, retired patrolman; William Singer, police commissioner; Leonard Belmont, sheriff's department; Clayton Vredenburg, county investigation officer; James Murphy, police commissioner; Charles "Jimmy" Turk, president, Kingston City Baseball League and former alderman-at-large; Charles Gaffney, attorney for the Patrolmen's Association; James Geary, Council 275, Knights of Columbus; Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly; Morgan D. Ryan, commander Kingston Post, 150, American Legion; Edward Parmelee, commander, Joyce-Schrick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Ira Warren, managing editor, Ulster County News; Warren Russell; Theodore Lee, president of Kingston Lions Club; Harold Bowser, retired patrolman; District Attorney Louis G. McNamara Quits Post

New York, May 9 (AP)—The president of the Municipal Civil Service Commission it out. "He resigned — period" was Mayor William O'Dwyer's description yesterday of the departure from the city service of Joseph A. McNamara. A grand jury recently took the commission to task for failure to press charges against city employees who admittedly took civil service examinations for other men. But the mayor said he had not asked for McNamara's resignation. O'Dwyer appointed Paul P. Brennan, a Brooklyn lawyer, as McNamara's successor.

It requires 50,000 horse power to provide the right amount of force for the latest supersonic wind tunnel for testing aircraft.

Man, 36, Is Detained On Serious Charge

Port Jervis, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—A 36-year-old Pennsylvanian was held today on a charge of attempting to wreck a train.

He is Benjamin Peter Jency of Wilkes-Barre, who was arrested last night when discovered in a freight car by a railroad guard.

Earlier yesterday, an Erie railroad engineer reported seeing a man in a dark cap and overcoat dart into the brush near the spot where a rock was laying on one of the tracks.

The engineer was unable to stop the train before it hit the rock, but there was no damage and the train was not derailed.

When first questioned by police Jency denied being in the area, but later admitted placing the rock there, police said.

No motive was reported. If convicted, Jency would face up to 20 years in prison.

- ★ America's most glamorous car!
- ★ Triumph of Anatomic Design*

The 1951 Kaiser DeLuxe 4-door Sedan...one of 6 body styles and 12 models. Hydra-Matic Drive available in all models at extra cost.

- ★ Anatomic Design... (Ana-TOM-ic)... is the newest, most advanced step in motor car making. It is the principle of engineering the anatomy of the car, every feature of the body and chassis, to suit the needs of human anatomy in a way never before achieved. It results in a car that is easier to control, more comfortable, safer for you and your family to ride in.

And here it is...the first car in America built from roadline to roofline on the principle of Anatomic Design!

Like riding "outdoors"! Largest windshield, slimmest corner posts in any car...no "blind spots"!

Most room ever! High-Bridge Doors offer new walk-in ease. Single-Roll Body provides extra wide, lounge-comfort seats, more head room and leg room.

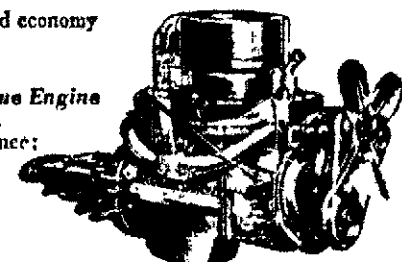

Easiest ride on the road! A Level-Flight Ride...because exclusive spring suspension takes up road shock!

Here's super-safety! Lower center of gravity and Truline Centerpoint Steering let the '51 Kaiser take curves faster, safer! Oversized jumbo brakes make stopping surer, swifter!

Value that holds up! Years-ahead newness and economy of operation save you money and assure lasting protection for your investment.

New 115 h.p. Kaiser Supersonic High-Torque Engine gives you faster acceleration; less vibration with higher compression, quieter, smoother performance; more driving power per horsepower, lower gas and oil consumption.

Farmers Advised To Stick to Oats

Farmers are advised to stick to their oat planting plans rather than switching to barley even though the best season for planting spring grains is past.

Assistant County Agricultural Agent Clarence Padgham points out that late planted oats produced more feed than does late planted barley.

According to information from Prof. A. A. Johnson, Cornell plant breeding department, tests in several parts of the state gave the following results: Barley planted in mid-May produced only 36 per cent as much as barley planted in April. Oats planted in mid-May yielded 83 per cent as much as April-planted oats.

For a late May planting, the superiority of oats over barley was even more striking—two acres of oats yielded as much as one acre of April-planted oats, while five acres of barley were required to produce as much as one acre planted in April.

Of course, said the agent, late planting of oats is not recommended, but under conditions have not been favorable for early planting in many sections of the county.

Local seed dealers are still able, in most instances, to supply farmers with certified, limited seed of the recommended varieties. Of these available in quantity, Mohawk and Clinton are recommended.

Padgham stated that in Ulster county, oats for hay or silage or pasture can yet be planted and a good return expected. Such oat seed need not be certified or of a recommended variety, but should be nearly weed-free.

High Falls Home Bureau Exhibit

In observance of Home Demonstration Week and also to acquaint the people of the community with the kind of work they are doing, the High Falls Home Bureau Unit held a two-day exhibit on May 5 and 6. Irving Feinberg generously offered the use of a vacant room in the post-office building for the exhibit. On display were plastic handbags, aprons, gloves, neckties, tailored clothing, restyled table linen, Christmas decorations, chairs with new cane seats, etched aluminum trays and refinished furniture. There also was a kit containing children's clothing made from discarded garments at a great saving in cost. The High Falls Unit expects to include such a project in the program next year.

The committee in charge of the exhibit was gratified by the large attendance and the favorable comments. Under the leadership of Mrs. John Ham, the unit has had a very successful year and recently the members showed their appreciation by unanimously electing her chairman for the coming year. Greased Pig Gets Loose

Princeton, N. J., May 9 (AP)—A greased pig got loose in a movie house during the show last night. The movie ground on, amidst squeals and shouts. Ushers tried to catch the pig, but finally gave up and called policemen, who caught it with a net. Police, preparing a pork barbecue, said they suspected Princeton University students of perpetrating the prank.

'Dog Mother' Expects

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Albany's "Dog Mother of the Year," 1949, is expecting again. She already has had 82 pups. The seven-year-old Welsh terrier's next litter is expected late this month.

says Jimmy Carroll, her 15-year-old owner. Guinness off-pink have been recorded by the Mohawk and Hudson Humane Society. Her top litter, the party says, was 11 pups in 1948. Two litters last year produced 19 pups.

Would Cut Cigar Tax
Washington, May 9 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee reversed itself today and voted to cut cigar excises by $15,000,000 a year. The slash, if finally approved, would reduce $45,000,000 annual tax on cigar smokers by one-third. The committee previously had refused to cut the cigar tax. At the same time the committee voted to close a tax law "loophole" which some members estimated has been depriving the government of from $25,000,000 to $20,000,000 annually. This was a technical amendment dealing with tax reductions taken by dealers in tax-exempt state and municipal bonds. Today's action on cigars brought the committee's total approved excise cuts to about $1,080,000,000—almost twice the $655,000,000 limit President Truman proposed.

Five Are Injured

Five persons were injured in a four-car collision on Route 17 near Wurtsboro Monday night. None of the injured required hospitalization at the time, state police at Wurtsboro said. Troopers said two of the automobiles collided head-on as they were going in opposite directions, each passing another vehicle. The injured were identified by troopers as Aline Hobbes, 30, New York city;

August Joseph Sanfilippo, 30, Brooklyn; James Warren Kelly, 33, of Middletown; Mrs. Anne Kelly, Middletown, and Frank McKean, Wurtsboro.

Women Teachers' Honor Society Holds Convention Here; Speaker, Panel Featured

More than 100 teachers from communities throughout New York state attended the Pl State Meeting of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, national honor society for women teachers, at the Governor Clinton Saturday.

Highlights of the day were the panel discussion of "Opportunities for Women in Education" held in the afternoon, and the address of guest speaker Miss Elizabeth Pendry, who reported on her recent trip to Europe.

Orchids flown from Hawaii were presented to each delegate attending the luncheon at noon. Miss Anna Mohr read greetings from the Hawaiian Chapter.

At the panel discussion, presided over by Dr. Ruth Northway as moderator, Mrs. Dorothy Buchring of Hornell said there was a great opportunity for service in the teaching of "exceptional" children. There is a "great need" for trained workers in this field, she declared, adding that the goal of teachers in this work would be to develop the whole personality of the handicapped child at the most functional level so that he might find a secure place in society.

The key to good teaching in this field, she said, is to determine "where the child is, before trying to take him anywhere."

Mrs. Caroline Veltin of Cornwall spoke of the requirements of a good administrator and Miss Mary Lee McCarty of Brockport discussed the trials and rewards of a librarian.

Librarians, although not often classified as teachers, have as much opportunity to educate as teachers in the classrooms, Miss McCarty claimed. She said there was a decided need for librarians in the elementary field.

Miss Caroline Curtis of Poughkeepsie, discussing the work of visiting teachers, said their purpose was to secure closer cooperation between the home and school in solving personality problems. The conversation at the dinner table at home, she said, is one of the most important factors influencing a child's development.

Miss Pendry, guidance director of the New Utrecht High School in Brooklyn, spoke after the banquet. She recently returned from a tour of England, the region along the Rhine and the Scandinavian countries, and gave an encouraging report of the progress of education in the countries she visited.

She described the apprentice system in Switzerland and the international folk schools of the Scandinavian countries, saying that these systems showed that ideas of democracy are a vital factor in education in these countries.

Warren Russell showed movies that Miss Pendry had taken of her entire tour.

Honored guests at the banquet were the three state founders, Dr. Dorothy Thatcher, Poughkeepsie; Dr. Ann Pierce, Cortland; and Miss Ruth Mack Havens, New Paltz; also past state presidents, Miss Gladys Mersereau, Union, and Miss Havens. Miss Frieda Dingo, state program director, was toastmistress and Miss L. May Quimby gave the invocation.

An ensemble from the Kingston High School choir under the direction of Leonard Stone sang four selections, with Miss Ramona Leonard as accompanist. They sang "Hear My Prayer," "Russian Picnic," "Fred Waring's arrangement of 'The Battle Hymn of the Republic'" and the "Lord's Prayer."

The audience applauded them loudly.

After the panel discussion and initiation ceremonies for 12 new members from various sections of the state, a tea was served in the hotel lounge with Miss Marjorie de Quetteville of Middletown, Pl. State President, and Mrs. E. J. Hamilton of Beacon, president of Alpha chapter, presiding.

The new officers for 1950-51 were installed. They are: President, Miss Edith Conrad of Brooklyn; first vice president, Miss Elizabeth Wyke, Endicott; second vice president, Mrs. Marjorie M. Rochester; secretary, Miss Helen Green, Elmhurst; treasurer, Miss May Evans, Saugerties.

It was announced that the 1952 meeting of Pl State will be held in Buffalo.

After the banquet, group singing was led by Miss Eleanor McCarty, Middletown, accompanied by Mrs. Esther Hamilton. Devotions for the banquet were prepared and arranged by the Misses Anne and May Quimby and Mrs. Frieda Dingo. Miss de Quetteville spoke briefly of her two years as state president and expressed her good wishes to the new officers.

Braves and Squaws Dance

Members of the tribe of Pocahontas dance in celebration of the peace pipe by Powhatan and John Smith. This will be one scene in the play "Pocahontas" to be presented Thursday afternoon at Kingston High School Auditorium by the New York company of Clare Tree Major.

Exciting and Colorful Story of Pocahontas To Be Presented as Play Thursday Afternoon

The exciting and colorful story of the little Indian princess who befriended Captain John Smith and saved his life will be dramatized on the stage of the Kingston High School auditorium Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. when the famous Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre of New York presents the play "Pocahontas."

In bringing the historical story of Pocahontas to the stage, Clare Tree Major, a recognized authority on theatrical entertainment for children, has fashioned a rich and moving drama as well as an authentic re-creation of 17th century Colonial Virginia, with particular emphasis on the life of Pocahontas herself and the customs and culture of the great Chickahominy tribe whose chief was her father, the kindly Powhatan.

The play is being presented here under the auspices of the Junior League of Kingston, of which Mrs. Edward DeGroot is president. The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

Here is a synopsis of the play: On a late afternoon in summer the little Virginia village dominated by the house of the great Indian emperor Powhatan basked quietly in the pale sunshine. The men were still in the fields while the women worked about the cooking fire, danced and sang. A brave rushed in to announce that the great white chief John Smith had been captured.

Powhatan seated himself on his fur covered throne and questioned Smith. The Medicine Man, after a dance, decreed that Smith must die. As the tomahawks were raised, Pocahontas threw herself across his body and demanded that he be saved. Powhatan, who could refuse his daughter nothing, consented and Smith returned to Jamestown.

For a time all went well, and there were many tokens of friendship exchanged between the Indians and white men. But the mood of the red men changed. Those who hated the white settlers roused a storm of anger that Powhatan agreed to attack the fort and kill every white person there.

Pocahontas, horrified, thought of her white friends, and especially of John Rolfe. She slipped away and ran through the forest to the fort in time to warn the settlers of the attack and the Indians were beaten off.

As the months went by, friendship between Powhatan, who was one of the most intelligent Indians of the period, and the white man grew, though Osaminio, the Medicine Man, remained their implacable enemy. It was not until the marriage of his Princess, Pocahontas, with the white captain, Rolfe, that his enmity was at last suppressed. The play closes with his old time enemy, Osaminio, leading the braves in a dance to call down blessings from heaven on the heads of Captain Rolfe and his lovely bride, the Princess Pocahontas.

... Tulip Fair ...

Colorful advance notice of the Old Dutch Tulip Fair was provided in this "Old Dutch" float which was part of the Apple Blossom parade Saturday. The fair will be held at the fair grounds on Pearl street between Fair and Wall. Among its featured events will be a "Beautiful Child" contest on Saturday. (Freeman Photo)

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Rance Shaver, of 80 Ulster avenue, Saugerties, are quietly celebrating their 53rd wedding anniversary today. They are former residents of Kingston.

John E. Breithaupt, son of Mrs. Jennie E. Breithaupt of Phoenixia, acted as master of ceremonies at the Wisteria Pageant of the University of Bridgeport, Bridgeport, Conn., Sunday. He sang several solos, including "Desert Song" and "One Alone."

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rose, 184 Henry street, have returned to their home after spending the winter at Lakeland and Hollywood, in Florida.

Jack Keating, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen J. Keating, 49 Hunsdale street, is pictured in the May issue of the magazine "Seventeen" in two of a series of photographs showing fashion models against a background of the U. S.

Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, where he is a fourth classman.

Leslie Vogt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Vogt, 24 Park street, has been initiated into Sigma Tau, engineering honor society, at the University of Miami in Coral Gables, Fla., where he is a junior.

B'nai B'rith

B'nai B'rith will hold a regular meeting Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Anthony J. Toeco of the Kingston City Laboratory. The meeting will be at the B'nai B'rith House, 101 Wall street.

Gretchen Bence Will Sing Lead In Menotti Opera

In the most ambitious program yet undertaken by the music and drama departments of St. Lawrence University, three Kingstonians will take part in the productions of two modern American operas this week at Canton. The operas are Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" and Gian-Carlo Menotti's two act operatic masterpiece, "The Medium."

In the cast of "Down in the Valley" will be Herman C. Schwenk, baritone, of Kingston, as The Leader.

Gretchen A. Bence, contralto, of Kingston, will sing the leading role of Madame Flora in "The Medium," a demanding part calling for the best acting and singing ability.

Baritone Donald A. Laidlaw is cast as Mr. Gobleau in "The Medium."

The two-part musical event will be presented at Laurentian Hall Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Menotti's opera, perhaps his best known work after "The Consul," now running in New York, tells the story of a fake spiritualist who actually contacts one of the ghosts she summons and who goes mad as a result.

Ponckhockie Church Pays Tribute to Departing Minister

The Rev. Frederic E. Williams gave his farewell sermon to the Ponckhockie Congregational Church at the Sunday evening service. Mrs. Williams also gave a farewell message.

Both were presented by Mrs. Frank Shaw with a purse of money from friends in the congregation. Preceding the service, the Junior Christian Endeavor which Mrs. Williams has conducted for some time held a supper party in her honor. The Rev. Mr. Williams will leave the pastorate Wednesday to accept a call to a Presbyterian church in Newburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wynkoop of 10 Church street, New Paltz, announce the engagement of their daughter, Winona Ann Wynkoop, to Eric John J. Seeland, Jr., of the Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Seeland of Poughkeepsie.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of New Paltz High School. Mr. Seeland is a student at the University of the South.

GRADUATION

by JAMES H. WINTERS

It is time to begin thinking about the gift for that child who is about to graduate next month. What finer or more lasting gift could it be than a lovely new piano? It is something that could be treasured and enjoyed for many years. Very often we see old pianos that were graduation gifts or just plain gifts many years ago and, although some of them are nearly worn out, there is still a great deal of sentiment connected with them. So much sentiment, in fact, that the people do not want to part with them and so we patch them up as well as possible.

Now is a good time to select that new instrument as we have a nice stock of pianos in various makes. We will be glad to hold your purchase till the proper time for delivery. A generous trades-in allowance can be arranged for your present piano and also terms are arranged if desired. Drop in at 116 Fair Street and arrange for your graduation present now.

Footlighters Discard Plans for June Play; Will Give One-Acts

The Footlighters announced today that plans for a June production have been "discarded temporarily" in favor of one-act plays to bridge the gap of summer inactivity. These will be written, directed and acted by members of the group and interested non-members are invited to attend.

On Tuesday, May 16, an original play by Ernest Ward of Kingston will be presented at a regular meeting of the Footlighters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grate, Bloomington. The cast, under the direction of the author, will include Jules Vighelmo of Ulster Park, Mrs. Katherine Evans and Dr. Arthur Evans of Kingston, David Crystal of New Salem, and Earl Mack of Whiteport.

Scranton Lace Co. Holds Spring Dance

Seventy-five couples and guests of the Scranton Lace Company, Kingston Division, attended a spring dance Saturday evening in the ballroom, which was decorated as a modern night club.

During the evening, a floor show was presented, featuring Johnny Thompson, young tenor; Don Sills, tap dancer; and Louis Schacter, who performed an electric Indian war club drill.

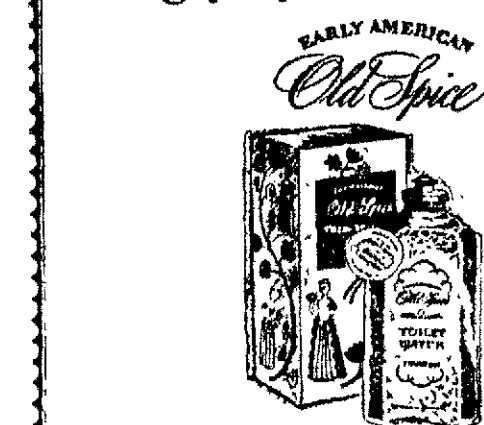

Music for dancing was supplied by speed Scherer's orchestra.

NOTES FROM

Nancy Warren

Dear Ann,

Sisters don't have to be tactful, do they? All right, then I don't approve your plans for redecorating your living room and dining room. Pinks and blues and satins and brocatelles are simply lush for blonde, little YOU—but do you want that six-foot, pipe-smoking husband of yours, and his three stalwart sons to leave home? Ann, a house is a "Family Background," and you're outnumbered four to one. Your home should look as the your kind of a family life there—comfortably.

Blue is your color (and happily, most men like it too). You're lucky to have that large, light living room—a wide, striped wallpaper in two shades of gray-blue would make a grand background for Tom's fine collection of sporting prints. Your deep blue carpet gives the eye for sharp contrast at the windows—how about cherry-wood draperies with a border of white rope or cross-stitch? Pick up bold plaids and provincial prints for the slip-covers. Oh, yes, the wallpaper number is No. 39A.

Proving that even floral designs needn't be pricey—there's a charming wallpaper called "Juna Garden" that would be perfect for your dining room. It has a white ground, and lovely, truly pattern of big, beautiful, blue peonies with soft green leaves. Nice with mahogany furniture and your new white organdy curtains.

Ann, maybe the combination I've suggested isn't just what you and Tom like best, but there are dozens of other good ideas in the new NANCY WARREN WALLPAPER BOOKS—so arranged to give complete color harmony for every room in the house. Take Tom with you and go over them carefully at the PAINT HUCKLE, 72 NORTH FRONT STREET, KINGSTON, N. Y.

Best to you both and a kiss for the boys,
Nancy

Miss Ruth Marilyn Spalt Becomes Bride Of Richard Lowe at Trinity Methodist

Miss Ruth Marilyn Spalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Spalt, 9 Cross street, and Richard West Lowe, 101 Hunter street, son of Mrs. Edna Lowe, 105 Hunter street, were married Sunday at Trinity Methodist Church, in a candlelight service. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ivan Gosso. The church altar was decorated with snapdragons, baby breath and palms. Mr. Henry Terpening, soloist, sang traditional wedding selections, and William Smith was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white marquisette over satin designed with a lace bertha with a ruffle, a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves, and a full skirt, laced, ending in a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was trimmed with imported Belgian lace and caught to a scalloped net headpiece trimmed with seed pearls and matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Shirley O'Bryan, of the Flatbush road, was maid of honor, wearing Nile green marquisette over taffeta, with a lace insertion in the center skirt panel and a bertha collar, matching mitts and shoes.

Proud Mamas and Dads Still Have Time To Enter Children in 'Beauty Contest'

Proud mamas and dads have been given a week and a half's grace in entering their offspring in the "Beautiful Child" show and contest at the Old Dutch Tulip Fair Saturday, May 20. It was originally announced that all entrants would have to be registered not later than Wednesday. Entries now will be accepted probably until the day of the contest, but the earlier the better.

The contest will be part of the annual Tulip Fair, to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the fair grounds on Pearl street between Wall and Fair, sponsored by the First Dutch Reformed Church.

The contest is open both to boys and girls, from any locality, between the ages of one and seven years. It will be divided in four classes: the most beautiful girl and the most beautiful boy between one and three years old, and 3. This festival which is sponsored by the Long Island Education Association includes band and orchestra competitions as well as demonstrations by choral groups.

Mr. Stine will judge the choral singing together with Professor Luther Goodhart, director of choral work at New York University.

Approximately 10,000 American Indians served in World War I; 50,000 of these were in the Army and the balance in the Navy.

Stine Will Be Judge At 2 Music Festivals

Leonard Stine, director of music in the local schools has received invitations to act as judge of the larger school music festivals in the east. Mr. Stine, whose own school choir is one of outstanding groups in the country, will judge choral music.

On May 26 and 27 Mr. Stine will attend the New England Choral Festival at Hamden, Conn. He has been placed on the list of adjudicators by the New England Festival Association and will be sole judge of the groups throughout the two day festival. Each group will receive a rating and constructive criticism.

The Long Island School Music Festival will be held at Adelphi College, Garden City, on June 2

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

DON'T ADD TO TIPPING BURDEN

This situation is rather exceptional: "When we stopped en route to the coast to see a friend, all six of us and the dog unexpectedly had lunch with her at home. She had one maid who cooked, served and was most patient and helpful with the children. When we left, my husband gave her a generous tip. I think it was wrong but he insists saying thank-you with something tangible was only fair. What say you?"

Tipping after having a meal in someone's house is not a general American custom. I think most people would like to keep it this way too! However, where such an unusual amount of personal service was given, a gift of money does not seem out of order.

Second Marriage Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it bad taste for a widow (or divorcee) to use her towels, table linens, bed sheets, etc. from her first marriage after her second? They are all marked with her first marriage initials.

Answer: Your present husband's feelings are really all that matters.

Acknowledging Office Present

Dear Mrs. Post: The office sent me a wedding present. The "big boss" was included. To whom should I write thank-you? I hope not to each one!

Answer: You suggest there are many, in which case it would be permissible to write one note to include everyone and address it either to the office manager or your best friend in the office. He in turn will either post it on a bulletin board or hand it around.

Removing Fruit Pits

Dear Mrs. Post: Are fruit pits, assuming they are removed from the mouth with the teaspoon, put on the plate under the dish or back in the dish itself?

Answer: At the side on the plate; never back in the dish with the food still to be eaten!

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but if you are planning to serve a formal dinner soon, you will find her booklet, No. 503 very helpful. Rules to follow—from carving to after-dinner coffee are given in detail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents more to get the complete fashion picture for warm weather in 1950. Everything for every age, including active sports wardrobe. Plus a free pattern of a beach bra printed in the book.

Ideal temperature for long storage of potatoes is cool, not cold, or about 40 to 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

Y.W.C.A. Sketch Class Exhibition Shows Growth in Craftsmanship Over Other Years

The ninth annual exhibition of drawings, sketches, charcoal drawings and paintings by the Y.W.C.A. Sketch Class opened Monday afternoon with a tea at the Y.W. building on Clinton avenue. More than 250 persons attended. The exhibit, which includes 70 studies in oil, water color and charcoal is hung in the assembly room and hallway. All 15 members of the class, which has been meeting weekly throughout the fall and winter months under the instruction of Miss Emily D. R. Hoyer, are represented in the showing.

Landscapes predominate. Many were made from notes and sketches made during vacations in the south and along the New England coast. Others show familiar local and Ulster county scenes. Flower studies and portraits are also included. The exhibit demonstrates the individual techniques of the class members and shows a definite growth in craftsmanship over exhibits of former years.

The tea table, decorated with candles and spring flowers was arranged by Mrs. Raymond Gross. Members of the board of directors who assisted the class by serving were Mrs. W. Dean Hawk, Mrs. Thomas Culver, Martin Hearn, Cleonwater and Mrs. Frank Thompson.

Those exhibiting at the show were: Mrs. Charles Arnold; Landscapes and flower studies in oil, two portraits, one a study from a

Colonials Stay Idle; To Meet Torrington

Bristol Owls Here Starting Thursday

Johnny Manopoli, rookie right hander who turned back the Poughkeepsie Chiefs in a thrilling 13-inning opener at municipal stadium, will be on the firing line for the Colonials tonight in the opener of a two-game series at Torrington.

The Colonials return home for a four-day stand starting Thursday against the Bristol Owls.

Yesterday's scheduled contest with Bristol was cancelled as early as 6 p. m. because of frigid blasts that were whipping around the Connecticut city.

In the only game played in the circuit, the Poughkeepsie Chiefs slipped into second place with four wins and two losses, by walling Torrington 17 to 5.

A slim crowd of 100 frozen fans watched the Chiefs pound two Torrington hurlers for 16 hits, including home runs by Ed Musial and Ray Frosch.

The release of Johnny Bakus leaves the Colonials with only two catchers—Rudy Karsen, who has done a nice job since taking over the No. 1 post and Manager Emil Gall.

Manopoli and Underwood will probably work the Torrington

Two Managers Set For Final Meeting series, leaving Bill McKeever, Art Applebaum and Bob Kunze available for the first home series with the championship Bristol Owls starting Thursday.

The Owls remain the club to beat and with a couple of hurriers like Tony Siergiez and Rouben Gomez they rate the championship accolade.

Gomez stopped the Colonials, 6-3, Sunday and figure to work in Thursday's opener or Friday. Colonial fans will see the best twirler in the league when Senor Gomez cuts loose.

GAME OF TAG THE RUNNER

Brooklyn Dodger First Baseman Gil Hodges (second from left) is caught in rundown between third and home in fourth inning of game with Pittsburgh Pirates at Forbes Field. Buc Catcher Clyde McCullough (8) tosses the ball to Third Baseman Nanny Fernandez (center) who tagged Hodges out. Play started on grounder from Bruce Edwards' bat to Pitcher Cliff Chambers, who is backing play off baseline at left. Stan Rojek covers third. Behind Umpire Bill Stewart is Brooklyn Coach Milt Stock. Brooklyn won, 7-5. (AP Wirephoto)

Major League Roundup

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rival big league managers are beginning to talk about Red Rolfe's hustling Detroit Tigers with a great deal of respect.

Baseball men who previously had regarded the Tigers as "just another first division club," are openly giving the Bengals a good chance to win the American League flag.

Cassey Stengel, skipper of the New York Yankees is the latest to climb aboard the Detroit handwagon. Not that he thinks his Yankees won't repeat. But he now rates the Tigers even with Boston's powerful Red Sox as the teams he expects to give him his toughest fight.

"Detroit is the best looking club we've faced thus far," he said yesterday following the Tigers' 7-1 triumph over his world champions.

"They're going to be tough, you can bet on that. Especially when (Hal) Newhouser comes around. I don't like to talk about players on other clubs. But that (Art) Houtteman looked like the best pitcher in the league out there today."

Houtteman, 22-year-old right hander blanked the Yanks for eight innings, but let up in the ninth after his mates had given him a 7-0 lead. It was his fourth triumph against one loss.

The Tigers today were leading the league. Although tied with Boston in games won and lost, the Tigers lead the Red Sox by 64 percentage points. They've won 10 of 14 starts while the Sox have won 13 of 20.

Raschi Kayeod
Vic Raschi, Yankee starter, pitched well for seven innings but blew in the eighth and ninth, yielding five runs. It was his second loss against as many victories.

Washington's surprising Senators handed Bobby Feller his sixth and straight defeat as Sid Hudson pitched them to a 4-2 triumph over Cleveland under the Washington lights. Besides spacing 10 hits for his third triumph, Hudson helped win his own game with a run-scoring single and a long fly that brought in another tally.

Brooklyn retained its National league leadership, defeating the Pirates in Pittsburgh, 7-5. The Pirates staged a belated ninth-inning rally, routing starter Bud Podbielan with a two-run attack. Jack Banta replaced Podbielan and stopped the Bucs with the potential tying runs on the bases.

Philis Win

Philadelphia's Phillies remained a half game behind the Brooks, edging out the Reds in Cincinnati night game, 6-5. A wild throw

Special Meeting Called by K.B.A.

The Kingston Bowling Association will hold an important special meeting to discuss several matters of protest and policy on Friday, May 12, at 7 p. m. at the Y.M.C.A.

Results in the City Minor League last night are being held in abeyance pending action at the special meeting.

Area Aces Fail To Disturb Leaders

The Middletown tandem of Kay Berrian and Marie McBride rolled 1039 Sunday for the best area scores in the minor events of the state tournament at the Bowliatium.

Mrs. Berrian rapped 547 and McBride shot 492.

Jean Williams and Elvina Williams of Chatham shot 1019 in Class B; Marge Becker-Am Becker, Newburgh, 1013, the latter posting 204-534.

Dot Ellis (325) and Marge Roselli (455), Middletown rolled 989 in Class A; Gert Protosch (451) and Edna McLaughlin (480)—for 941 in Class A; Elmer Fueller (465) and Elsie Terwilliger (481)—946 in Class A.

Edna McLaughlin, Newburgh, pounded 550 in Class A singles for the top individual score. She rolled games of 170-169-211.

Elsie Terwilliger, Middletown, hit 155-168-182-520; Lila Javens, Newburgh, 182-177-171-530; Ira Sharples, Middletown, 193-168-166-527.

Wiltwyck Golf Club Plans Team Match Between Modern and Ex-K.H.S. Stars

How would Kingston High School athletic greats of yesterday compare with modern Maroon golf wizards in head to head competition on the links?

The answer may be furnished on Saturday, May 13, when the undefeated Maroon varsity golf squad engages seven former Maroon stars in a novel match arranged by Tommy Danaher, the Wiltwyck Golf Club pro.

In the days when the alumni were starting on K.H.S. athletic fields, there was no such thing as a golf varsity. But in the passing years all seven of the men selected by Danaher have carved a name for themselves in local golf circles.

Heading the list are Maurice Davenport, J. Watson Bailey, two former Wiltwyck club champions; Dr. Fred Holcomb, one-time Twaitskill kinsman; Dr. George Rifenburg, Bob Cullum, District Attorney Lou Bruhn and Ken Davenport, the portlander.

And who will head the sensational, undefeated high school varsity? Just a guy named Leon Randall.

Randall will be backed by a supporting cast that has made a shambles of K.H.S. opponents over a two-year period; notably Johnny Gleason, Jerry Wells, Dick Davenport, Charlie Bostic and Brian Smith.

Pairings have not been announced but it is presumed that Leon Randall will square off against Maurice Davenport and Johnny Gleason and Watts Bailey will tangle in the No. 2 spot. This is all pure speculation, of course, but it should be interesting. Tee-off time is 1:30 p. m.

Wiltwyck golfers opened their competitive season over the weekend with the first of a series of monthly "mixer" tournaments.

The winning foursome, with a net total of 309 strokes, included Townsend Rifenburg, Charlie Mierowitz, Dr. Murray Greene and Stan Winne.

Second place honors went to the quartet of Art Jansen, Stan Hankinson, Bob Cullum and Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr. with a net of 310.

Twenty members turned out and played in foursomes selected by draw. Competition was on a handicap basis.

Winners in the week-end blind bogey tournament were: Dr. Chet Van Gaasbeek, Clayton Smith, Rodden Loventhal, Ad Schultz, Lou Bruhn, Bob Cullum, Jimmy Turck, Charles E. Burnett, Art Hutton and Ed Schoonmaker.

The next scheduled event is a mixed two-ball foursome on Sunday, May 20.

A.B.C. Executives Gear For Showdown On 'White Male' Membership Clause

Columbus, O., May 9 (AP)—An internal battle over its "white male" membership restrictions is about to shake the 50-year-old American Bowling Congress to its foundations.

That was the consensus today as the grapevine whispered the results of last night's opening meeting of ABC executive directors. No one was talking for publication, but the best guess was that the directors had decided to bow to the pressure of many-angled lawsuits and erase the restriction from the books.

The big fight—and everyone seems to think there will be one—is scheduled Friday at the annual meeting. About 400 delegates from all parts of the U. S. and Canada have the power to overrule or refuse to approve any actions of the directors.

Although several big city associations were reported in favor of lifting the membership ban, the directors were slated to run into opposition from many other associations, representatives of the bowling alley proprietors in some sectors, and the "solid south."

Baumgarten Attunant
Elmer H. Baumgarten, militant executive secretary of the ABC since 1932, remained unconvinced the "white male" restriction should be removed.

Southern directors and some other officials were reported to have backed his stand, but legal advisers told them the ban must be erased if the ABC were to salvage any of its present structure. Earlier the directors, harassed by numerous lawsuits and an Illinois court decision that the restriction was discriminatory, had planned to put membership on an individual rather than a team basis, with the individuals being members of city associations. The city associations, in turn, would make up the ABC.

A constitutional amendment, readied for Friday's meeting, originally read:

City associations shall be composed of individuals of the white male sex who are interested in the game of American bowling.

It was that amendment which was changed last night, according to whispers which said the "white" had been deleted. The big question was whether the newly-phrased "open to all" membership regulation could muster a majority vote Friday.

If first impressions are lasting, then the Colonials are headed for a successful campaign. Three victories in the first five outings represent a welcome improvement over the 2-11 record with which Laviano's Lollipops opened the 1949 season. Two nice young pitchers in John Manopoli and Art Applebaum. Bob Kunze figures to win and Glenn Underwood is unbeatable when he has control. The infield and outfield are superb at the moment and Joe Sposa is putting on a whale of a show around first base. What a difference a year and sensible management can make!

Flotsam and Jetsam:
No word from Leo Pold since Joe DiMaggio started popping up against lefties. . . . Ted Williams' current streak has the High Street gang in a dither. . . . Buffalo and New York bowling hotshots should score the plank in the state women's tournament on Friday and Saturday at the Bowlatorium. New York's Cirin Motors and Wagner-Adler seen square off at 9:30 p. m. on alleys 13 and 14, the resting place of champions. . . . Every time you start getting excited about Maury McDermott, Jr., he comes up with ten bases on balls. . . . Bill Lohman basing Loren Campbell with the New Paltz State Teachers baseball varsity. The girl candidates were cut quickly. . . . Johnny Schatzel has gone into hiding since his horrendous all-events total in Columbus. . . . Eddie Modjeska, a bowling veteran of the Colonial alley era, picking up pin money in match games at the Chateau in Rosendale.

Of Mice and Men:
Construction of one of the largest ski hills in the United States will start at Phoenixia shortly after Decoration Day. . . . It will be known as the Ontario International Ski Jump. . . . Or is it, weather too nice to be talking ski courses. . . . Every time Argentine Rocca wrestles in Kingston "Bo" Gill brings an 82-year-old Newburgh rooster with him. . . . Mrs. Charles O. Fromer's four-year-old trotter, Emerson Hanover, is entered in eight stake engagements at Saratoga Raceway. The season opens there on June 19. . . . One of the best promotional ventures in Ulster county would seem to be stock car racing at a suitable location. Personally, we can't see them, but they certainly attract droves of spectators.

Celebrities swarmed all over the Razzon Bowlatorium over the week-end. Anty Varpapa was in town with his son, Frank, after a crack at several upstate vice-presidencies. Big Al Turk, all-time bowling great of Nyack, was a spectator. Also Monte Prover, owner of the famed Copacabana and husband of Jane Ball, Varpapa will appear in a 10-day bowling school at the Bowlatorium starting on Saturday, June 8.

Three Kingstonians are members of the Ithaca College varsity track squad. Neil Dunham competes in the 220-yard hurdles and high jump; Walston I. Goodrich in the 200 low and high hurdles and John P. "Buddy" Smith in the 220 low and high hurdles, high jump and javelin. . . . The annual I.B.M. Sweepstakes netted $2,081.75 for the Polio drive. . . . Ben Hogan will compete in the Goodall Round Robin tournament in New Rochelle this year. This is a must event annually for Alex Gorink, Father Herdogen and your correspondent. . . . Up to the end of the 1949-50 season, Coach Sam J. Kalloch's varsity squads had a winning percentage of 750 in every major sport. . . . Andy Murphy is sending out invitations for the showing of the film, "The University of Notre Dame" on Tuesday, May 16, at 8:30 p. m. at the Department of Recreation building, 97 Broadway.

Flight Steward's Body Recovered in Woods
Medford, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—The body of Flight Steward John Harris was found in the Long Island woods yesterday—almost three months after he was sucked out of a giant air liner.

Harris, 28, plunged 8,000 feet to his death in the early morning darkness of Feb. 11 when the door of his Boeing stratoscouter flew open and the rush of escaping air whipped him out of the pressurized cabin.

He had been trying to close the

SHOKAN

Shokan, May 8—Mr. and Mrs. Settelmeier and two children of Valley Stream, L. I., are settled in their new home, the Pheasant Inn property along the south side of the Ontario Trail.

Residents of the twin villages are rightly proud of their attractive new brick and stone firehouse which is now completed and ready for business.

Mrs. Earl Elmendorf is feeling much better having been ill at her home in the village center.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greene may sell their home and farm acreage in the Ridge road section of Shokan.

The Ashland reporter for the Stamford Mirror-Recorder says: "Who's caught any fish. Haven't heard of many, but it was possible to get a big 'bite' of a cold and not lose it rather than a fish." Now there we have the situation summed up in a few well chosen words.

Shale was being drawn on the Hellmann town road near the Olive-Shandaken line last week. John Rutherford and Ray Cudney are among the local men employed on the roads this spring.

Elen Swanson has been blasting out rocks and otherwise improving the right of way from his mountain-side place to the mountain road.

There will be not two, nor even one, swimming pool at the proposed new Ontario central schoolhouse at Boiceville. This bit of news serves to scotch still another rumor about the million dollar-plus educational center in northwestern Olive.

Prattville leads in the team standing of the Zedco Frisco bowling league thus far in the season. The league, made up of 10 units in Schoharie and Greene counties, obviously is named after the noted old time tanning tycoon of those counties. Incidentally, that's where the late Sheriff Z. P. Pratt got his given name, and the nomenclature is still current in the case of Pratt Boice, also a native of the reservoir country.

The recent spring festival and entertainment of the Olive Logion Post was even bigger and better than was last year's annual affair. There was a large crowd out and the receipts were most gratifying to the local vets. A number of cars got stuck in the mud around the Odd Fellows Hall following the evening's fun, but there was plenty of help at hand for these incidents. One feature of the program which drew a big laugh was the skit wherein a bunch of youngsters impersonated "rainmakers"; they gravely scattered powder about, and otherwise burlesqued the much discussed stunt of tossing moisture out of clouds for the replenishment of New York's big reservoir less than a mile away from the hall.

Typhoon Skirts Guam
Guam, May 9 (AP)—Islanders and American service personnel returned to their quarters today in the wake of a typhoon which skirted Guam yesterday doing negligible damage. The wind touched 60 knots in gusts but hovered near the 40 knot mark most of the time. The center of the storm passed 115 miles southwest of the island. The typhoon, fourth of the year in these latitudes, headed toward Iwo Jima, famed World War 2 battlefield in the western Pacific. During the typhoon a 119 foot buoy broke from its mooring and drifted out of the harbor. There was no one aboard.

ROSENDALE NEWS

Women's Club Has Annual Election

Rosendale, May 9—The Rosendale Women's Club elected the following new officers for the 1950-51 club year at the regular meeting of the organization which was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Roeltgen, with Mrs. Edward McCaffrey as co-hostess: Mrs. George Moylan, president; Mrs. John Stein, vice-president; Mrs. George Mollenhauer, secretary; Mrs. George Duffy, treasurer.

Items of business included the laying of a walk at the war memorial, and a committee composed of Mrs. Edward Eubank, Mrs. Joseph Hill and Miss Florence Buckley was appointed to take up the matter with the town board. Funds were appropriated for the purchase of flowering plants to beautify the memorial grounds after the walks have been installed. Also a check-up will be made on the condition of the flag, and a new ornament for the top of the flag pole.

June 7 was set as the date for the annual picnic, which will be held again this year at Spangler's resort in Maple Hill. Mrs. John Stein was appointed chairman of the picnic committee, assisted by Mrs. John Duffy, Mrs. George Mollenhauer, Miss Florence Buckley and Mrs. Stephen Huben will be in charge of entertainment.

Miss Yolanda Tenedini was welcomed as a new member. Guest at the meeting was Miss Elizabeth Schoromaker, county health nurse.

Mrs. Stephen Huben, president of the club, who is chairman of the canvassing committee for the chest X-ray survey which will be conducted for the entire town of Rosendale at the Grange Hall on May 16, 17 and 18, explained the duties of the canvassers, several of whom are members of the Women's Club, and announced the general meeting in regard to the survey which will be held on Tuesday, May 9.

Mrs. Joseph Hill, chairman of legislation committee, read several items of interest from the "Express" regarding social security, welfare and unemployment insurance.

Grangers Wind Up Dartball Leagues

Rosendale, May 9—The final playoffs in the Ulster County Grange Dartball League took place on Thursday evening at the Clintondale Grange hall, preceded by a baked ham supper, with approximately 100 Grangers attending.

The Rosendale women's team defeated the Highland women's team by winning the first two games with scores of 14 to 3 and 4 to 3, making it unnecessary to play the third game.

The playoffs between the Rosendale men's team and the Ulster Park men were more hotly contested, with Ulster winning the first game 4 to 1; the second game going to Rosendale Grange, 9 to 4, and the final game going to Rosendale with a score of 18 to 7.

Cornelius Hotelling of Rosendale Grange, chairman of the dartball league, expressed the hope that more Grangers would participate next year. Granges included in the season just ended were Paterson, Highland, Lake Katrine, Ulster and Rosendale.

Attending the dinner and play-offs from Rosendale Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Claus and Doris Claus, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deltz and Gwendolyn LoBello, Mrs. Russell Tenure, Mrs. Henry Mollenhauer, Alfred Karlsbach, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollenbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roeltgen, Mrs. Ruth Mercurio, Otto Mollenhauer, Richard McGuire, Mrs. Helen Aldridge and Miss Pearl DeForce.

Women's Bowling Date Changed to Thursday

Rosendale, May 9—Members of the Chalet Pioneer Woman's Bowling League will roll their final games of the season on Thursday, May 11 at 7:30 p. m., instead of Tuesday as regularly scheduled to enable league members to attend the chest X-ray meeting on Tuesday evening.

The Chalet Pioneer Woman's League will hold the final meeting of the season, open to all members, on Tuesday evening, May 16, at 8 p. m., at the Chalet bowling alleys. At this time officers of the league will be elected for the 1950-51 season and final arrangements will be completed for the first annual banquet of the league on Saturday evening, June 3, at the Chalet.

School Plans Trip

Rosendale, May 9—Pupils of Union Free School 1, from the fifth through eighth grades will make their annual educational trip to New York on Thursday, May 11. They will visit the Bronx Zoo. The bus will leave from the school at 8 a. m. There will be approximately 25 children, accompanied by parents, and Miss Norma Conklin, teacher. The trip is sponsored by the Better English Club assisted by the Rosendale Parents' Association.

Bontecou Officers

Rosendale, May 9—At the annual meeting of Bontecou School, District 6, town of Esopus, Edward Whitaker was re-elected trustee; Mrs. William Zacher was re-elected collector-treasurer and Mrs. George Mollenhauer, clerk. Items included in the budget were a new radio-phonograph to replace the one which was stolen from the school last winter, painting and redecorating the interior of the school, and funds for a milk program. George Mollenhauer acted as chairman of the meeting.

Brush Party

Rosendale, May 9—The Tilson Home Bureau Unit will sponsor a brush party at the Tilson Reformed Church on Tuesday, May 23 at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

members, on Tuesday evening, May 16, at 8 p. m., at the Chalet bowling alleys. At this time officers of the league will be elected for the 1950-51 season and final arrangements will be completed for the first annual banquet of the league on Saturday evening, June 3, at the Chalet.

Couples Club to Meet

Rosendale, May 9—The Couples Club of the Rosendale Reformed Church will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday evening, May 11 at the church hall.

Cancel Fund Dance

Rosendale, May 9—Frank Simpson, chairman of arrangements, announces that plans are rapidly nearing completion for the community-wide dance to be held for the benefit of the Cancer Fund campaign which will take place on Wednesday evening, May 12 at the Rosendale Grange hall on Main street, from 9 to 11 John Marashi.

Johnny Graves Dies in Missouri

Jiggsville, Mo., May 9 (AP)—Uncle Johnny Graves, the nation's oldest Confederate veteran, died today. He was 108.

His real name was John Thomas Graves, but everybody knew him as Uncle Johnny.

Until about ten days ago when he became ill, Uncle Johnny could still feed himself, smoke his pipe and chew tobacco.

Smoking, chewing, a place to eat and sleep, that's about all a man of his age could ask, he used to say.

Uncle Johnny was born January 1, 1842.

He was released after serving in the Confederate army only two years. The reason?

Poor health.

Now Dog's in Doghouse
Monticello, Calif. (AP)—Excited by the prospect of getting out of the car, her dog jumped into the front seat with Mrs. Hazel West as she turned in to park. The beast tangled with her feet, causing her to miss the brake pedal with her foot. Carom off a near-by vehicle. Smash into the door of a liquor store. Store employees were pinned in until a tow car arrived.

Johnny Graves Dies in Missouri
Jiggsville, Mo., May 9 (AP)—Uncle Johnny Graves, the nation's oldest Confederate veteran, died today. He was 108.

His real name was John Thomas Graves, but everybody knew him as Uncle Johnny.

Until about ten days ago when he became ill, Uncle Johnny could still feed himself, smoke his pipe and chew tobacco.

Smoking, chewing, a place to eat and sleep, that's about all a man of his age could ask, he used to say.

Uncle Johnny was born January 1, 1842.

He was released after serving in the Confederate army only two years. The reason?

Poor health.

The first mechanical refrigerator was patented in 1856, but electricity was not applied until after 1890.
